Allied Bombers Hit In Raid On Airfield

Council OK's Sewer Blast Settlement

Central Soya Co. Agrees To Pay City $9,500

A $9,500 settlement with the Central Soya Co. was adopted unanimously last night by City Council. The amount is the figure which Central Soya agreed to pay the city as damages caused by sewer explosions in Marion on June 5, 1950, and Feb. 16, 1951.

The explosions allegedly were caused by gases originating at the McMillen Feed Mills, a subsidiary of Central Soya. The solvent used in processing soybeans at the plant was said to have been the cause of the two explosions, both in the Silver street sewer line. The solvent leaked into the sewers, evaporated into gas, and exploded, city officials believe.

Total cost of repairing damage caused by the explosions was set by Ralph Forrest, safety-service director, at $14,000. Assistant City Solicitor George A. Piacentino told council the $9,500 offer from the company was considered a "fair and reasonable offer."

He suggested council accept the offer to avoid any long wrangle in the courts. The city several months ago filed a claim with the Central Soya Co. The settlement offer was made by the firm without them admitting any liability for the explosions, Piacentino said.

Traced to Plant

He told council the second explosion was traced directly to the McMillen mills with gas meters of the Marion Fire Department. He said the plant was the only building connected with the sewer which used the volatile fluid causing the explosions. Mr. Piacentino told the group the city solicitor's office expected no liability suits from property owners in the affected area.

The ordinance was passed as an emergency measure and became effective with the signature of Mayor Robinson.

Safety-Service Director Forrest said of the $14,000 spent in repairing the damage, a total of nearly $11,000 covered labor. He said extra work crews were used in repairing the sewer lines.

OK Funds For Trip

An ordinance authorizing the mayor and a representative of his office to attend a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing in Washington on Oct. 30 was passed unanimously.

The ordinance appropriated $250 from the general fund to the mayor's incidental fund to cover expenses of the two men. The hearing has been scheduled in connection with the drive for additional air service from the Marion Municipal Airport. Former Mayor Harry L. Dowler will accompany Mayor Robinson to the hearing. J. B. Bray, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, will represent the Marion Chamber of Commerce at the CAB hearing.

The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. was given permission to install a six-inch sanitary sewer on the east side of Leader street from West Center street to its property, just south of the Leader street overhead crossing. The resolution was approved unanimously.

The resolution calls for the sewer to be constructed under the sidewalk on the east side of Leader street. The Ohio Fuel Gas Co. will pay the costs of installation and the line must meet specifications set by the city engineer. Harold Steward of the Steward Construction Co., general contractor, asked if his firm might start the project without fear of any holdup. He said the west entrance to a Standard Oil filling station would be torn up for a 10-day to two-week period.

Favors Sidewalk

T. S. Cathers, city engineer, told council he was in favor of placing the line under the sidewalk rather than tearing up the street since it would not interfere with vehicular traffic. The sewer is being placed in by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., to take care of its new Leader street building.

Authority to construct the sewer was granted on five conditions. They were as follows: the company will pay the usual sewer tapping

Army Supplies Pile Up During Coastal Strike

Longshoremen's Union Leaders Called for Session

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—Tons of army material and civilian merchandise piled up on the docks today with striking stevedores in almost complete control of the world's biggest port.

The freight jam has brought a railroad embargo on most goods consigned here for export and coastal shipping.

As the rebel walkout threatened to erupt along the Atlantic Coast harassed union leaders were summoned to an emergency meeting today (10 a. m. E.S.T.) by their president, John P. Ryan.

Ryan, head of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association (I.L.A.), said the session would be attended by executive committee members of the union's Atlantic district.

There were reports that the I.L.A. leaders would bow to the demands of the wildcat strikers and ask to reopen contract talks with shipping and stevedoring firms.

Federal mediators hinted at this possibility last night as they announced that the wildcatters had agreed to hold off further efforts to spread the strike until after the I.L.A. meeting.

Must Use Higher Rate After Nov. 1

Harry F. Busey, collector of internal revenue at Columbus, in charge of the central Ohio area including Marion, announced today that employers will be required to withhold income tax from wages paid on and after Nov. 1, 1951 at the higher rates provided by the Revenue Act of 1951.

Revised withholding tax rate tables for employers are already being printed in Washington, and are being rushed to the offices of collectors throughout the nation.

Collector Busey stated that the pamphlets containing the revised tables will be placed in the mails to all employers on his list just as soon as possible. Employers who do not receive the pamphlet within a few days may obtain copies at the collector's office.

Collector Busey stated that em-

Reds Reshuffle Korean Truce Delegation

MUNSAN, KOREA, Oct 23 — (AP) — Communists reshuffled their Korean truce delegation today but still had not given a go ahead signal for renewing armistice talks.

Red China's Peiping Radio reported two generals of the five-man Communist delegation have been replaced. A United Nations spokesman said the changes may indicate the Reds plan to place greater emphasis on military considerations and less on political phases of an armistice.

Reorganization of the Communist delegation was announced as the Reds ignored a U.N. challenge to ratify quickly new truce talk rules. That was the only thing still needed to reopen negotiations to end the fighting in Korea. The Red delay ruled out the possibility of a meeting before Wednesday.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, top Allied negotiator, signed the new ground rules Monday a few hours after liaison officers approved them. He asked North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, head of the Red

West Towne Jubilee Draws Big Audience

Estimated 10,000 See Talent Show; 2nd Program Tonight

An estimated 10,000 spectators were present at the opening night of the West Town Jubilee last night.

Feature of the program was a talent show staged at the parking lot of the L-K Sandwich Shop and West Town Branch of the National City Bank.

Two sections of the contest were completed, but a third section was rained out. It will be repeated tonight in the final night of the jubilee, sponsored by the newly organized West Towne Merchants Association.

The estimate of the crowd attending was made by Mrs. Evalyn Dane, secretary-treasurer of the association, which was formed to boost trade in the West Center street area.

Talent Show Winners

Winners in the first show, which included 20 entries, were Gloria Prettyman, singing "Marshmallow World," first place; Ronald and Carl Breece, trumpet duet, "Star Dust," second; Diane Burke, baton twirler, third.

In the second show of 20 entries, the "Four Notes," singing "Beautiful Brown Eyes," were named first; Jean Kurtz and Nancy Ullmer, the "Barefoot Babes," second; Jimmy Beverly, clarinet solo, third.

The third show, which began last and was discontinued because of rain, will be repeated from the beginning at 6 p.m. today in the parking lot. Grand finals will begin at 7 p. m. Mrs Dane was mistress of ceremonies last night and will continue to introduce the contestants tonight.

Other Show Features

The "Martinaires" orchestra, a vaudeville act, chorus line, and specialty acts will present a program from 8 to 11 p.m. as other features of the jubilee. During the program more than 100 prizes will be awarded by the merchants of the West Towne Association.

Caledonia G.I. Wounded 2nd Time in Korea

Pfc. Arden J. Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Kline of Caledonia, was wounded for the second time in Korea Oct. 5.

He is now receiving treatment in a hospital in Japan. A rifleman in the 7th Infantry Regiment, he suffered shrapnel wounds in the face and neck.

He is getting along all right, he informed his parents in a letter received yesterday. He is to undergo an operation soon.

Kline was wounded first in April.

A graduate of Caledonia High School, he worked for the Swan Rubber Co. in Bucyrus before entering the service Sept. 8, 1950. After receiving basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., he was sent to Korea in February.

Woman Injured In Auto Collision

Mrs. Howard J. Rank of 626 Miami street was admitted to Marion City Hospital this morning for treatment of a shoulder injury suffered in a two-car collision near Big Island about 11 a.m. today.

She was taken to the hospital by the Gunder ambulance.

No further details about the accident were available from the state highway patrol at press time.

Badly Needed in Korea

Supplies of Life-Giving Blood Dangerously Low

While the average World War II casualty received one pint of whole blood and one pint of plasma, the average wounded man in Korea gets four of blood and two of plasma. This lavish use of blood is paying off in lives saved: the death rate is roughly half that in World War II.

But it means that more blood will have to be donated by civilians in the Red Cross blood program.

Marion residents may help fill the blood bank this week when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits the city.

It will be at the Marion Power Shovel Company Thursday from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m. and at the First Presbyterian Church Friday from noon to 6 p. m.

May Make Appointments

Donors may call 2-1653 for appointments to contribute blood.

Concerning the need for blood on the fighting front, Maj. Gen. Erskine Hume has this to say:

"We literally pour blood in sometimes, but we've saved lives and that's what counts. Of every 1,000 wounded brought into our hospitals, 983 walks out alive. Everytime I give out Purple Hearts I see men who would be dead if it weren't for the whole blood we used on them."

This new medical concept of the value of transfusions has caused a great need for blood. The supplies are now dwindling to dangerously low levels. Warehouses are practically empty.

To Give Govt. Side In Tax Accusation

Dunlap To Tell Reason for Laxity In Revenue Collection

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—(AP)—Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap gets a chance today to tell Congress the government's side of two big tax cases which a senator has charged are "gathering dust" with millions of dollars unpaid.

They involve William Lias, Wheeling, W. Va., racetrack owner, and Ardeis H. Myers, a Kansas City, Mo., businessman.

Dunlap was called before a House ways and means subcommittee investigating charges of corruption among some of the district revenue collectors. Rep. King (D-Calif), subcommittee chairman, said Dunlap had asked an opportunity to be heard on the two unpaid tax cases. Questioning may range farther.

Another Suspended

Dunlap told reporters yesterday he has suspended another federal collector, Lipe Henslee, of Tennessee, pending an investigation of the collector's physical condition. He said Henslee's health had been such he has not been able to devote himself to his duties. He said an investigation had revealed no wrongdoing in Henslee's office.

At Nashville, Henslee said in a statement he was the victim of "false charges" and that he had asked Dunlap to suspend him temporarily during a "full and fair investigation of my office."

Henslee became the 22nd internal revenue agent to resign, be suspended or dismissed since investigation of the bureau got under way.

Senator Williams (R-Del) had spoken out in the Senate on both the Lias and Myers cases earlier this month.

Williams declared Lias often had been referred to as "dictator of the rackets" in West Virginia and Southern Ohio, and owes back income taxes and penalties for 1942 through 1947. Lias said he would welcome an investigation.

"For nearly three years," Williams said, "this unpaid account

Dies After Crash Near Cardington

A Dayton truck driver died in Jane Case Hospital in Delaware this morning of injuries received when the tractor and semi-trailer truck he was driving struck a pole and turned over in a ditch on a curve of Route 42, two and one-half miles south of Cardington at 2:50 a.m.

William Earl Rose, 30, of Dayton, a driver for the C.C.C. Trucking Co., died at the hospital at 5:05 a.m. Dr. Ray Davies, Delaware County coroner, reported that death was due to internal injuries.

Mr. Rose was traveling south when the accident occurred. The vehicle was demolished.

The body was taken to the Ramsey-Bennett Funeral Home in Delaware, pending notification of the victim's father, William Rose of Helena, Ark.

Crash Kills Tiffin Couple

TIFFIN, O., Oct. 23—(AP)—A Tiffin couple were fatally injured today when their car ran into the Deisel engine of a New York Central freight train on U. S. Route 224 eight miles west of here.

Mrs. Belle Lindsay Jr., 27, died instantly. Her husband, Guy Lindsay Jr., 28, died later in Mercy Hospital here.

Lindsay was a salesman for Swift & Co. of Chicago. He was a former Fort Worth, Tex., resident. His wife was a city health nurse at Findlay. She was a former Atlanta, Ga., resident. They were married last July.

71 Percent of Goal

Chest Donations Reach $69,842

Workers in the Red Feather Community Chest drive were intensifying their efforts today in an all-out drive to reach their goal of $97,764 before next Thursday.

The second report meeting was held today when $69,842.75 was reported by the workers—71 percent of the goal.

The victory dinner is set for Thursday when it is hoped the 1951 goal will be reached. The victory dinner will be held at the Y.M.C.A.

Joining the more than 40 local plants where management and employes are carrying on over-all solicitation today, are the Pollak Steel Co. and the Alloy Cast Steel Co. This division, headed by Robert Fay, has a quota of $14,664.60. Added to firms flying the 100 percent banner are the Marion Federal Savings & Loan Association, Economy Savings & Loan Co., Standard Oil Co., Probst Supply Co., Marion Star and Omar Baking Co.

The following total reports were given at the "Dutch treat" luncheon today at the Y.M.C.A.:

Manufacturers Council, Ben T. Wiant reporting $16,960; Industry (other), Rex Robinson, $7,968; Individual gifts, Hoover Brown, $9,239.80; Professional, William Charle $5,193.65; Downtown, Jackson Taft $10,488.86; Public Employes, Ray Redenbaugh $624; county, no report; schools, James E. Frew $1,136.76; clubs and organizations, Mrs. B. H. Buettin $349; National firms, Charles Osterholt $3,903.71; Industries, Robert Fay $10,831.95; suburban, Robert Kibbey $541; residential, Mrs. Paul Bachman $2,446.30. Total to date $69,842.75.

Today's figures represent approximately 71 percent of the goal.

"If everybody will take the time needed to complete their job there is an excellent chance of meeting the goal," J. B. Bray, campaign chairman said today. Some divisions are a bit slow in getting their returns in, he added. He challenged every worker to keep on the job until 6 o'clock Thursday night, to do their bit in going over the top.

Calling Card Evidence In Murder Trial

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23—(AP)—A calling card found in the home of Mrs Ruth Alter, slain Columbus housewife, was introduced yesterday in the trial of George Phillips, 23, on a charge of second degree murder.

Mrs. Stella M. Druggan, mother-in-law of the 32-year-old woman, testified she found the card in the vestibule of the Alter home just after she discovered her daughter-in-law's body last April 25.

The state offered the card as evidence in an attempt to link Phillips, a one-armed insurance salesman, to the slaying. Mrs. Alter, mother of a 17-day-old baby, was found beaten to death. The baby was unharmed.

Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett told the jury he would prove Phillips beat Mrs. Alter with a shoe and then choked her to death. He said he would show that Phillips went to the Alter home to talk to Mrs. Alter about insurance for the baby.

Phillips showed no emotion yesterday when he accompanied the jury to the house where the slaying occurred.

Red Fighters Shoot Down 2, Damage 2

Enemy Loses 14 In Defending New Air Base Near Manchuria

U S EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Oct. 23—(AP)—Allied airmen reported at least 14 Red jets were destroyed or damaged today in a series of raging air battles involving 250 planes. Two American planes were shot down and two damaged.

The Fifth Air Force estimated a record 150 Russian-built MIG-15s were involved. They swarmed in waves on B-29 Superforts bombing a new Red airfield at Namsi.

Allied airmen were credited with destroying five Red jets, probably destroying two, and damaging between seven and ten.

One B-29 was crippled and plunged into the Yellow Sea. The crew bailed out. A Fifth Air Force briefing officer said one F-84 Thunderjet was shot down.

Two B-29s from Okinawa were badly damaged, but landed at Allied bases in Korea.

150 Red Jets

The estimated 150 fast Red jets—a record number—fought with 96 Sabre and Thunderjets and an unannounced number of B-29s.

The air battle, one of the biggest of the Korea war, overshadowed action on the quieting ground fronts.

United Nations tank and infantry forces began enveloping smoldering Kumsong, deserted former Red stronghold on the central front. The Allies in the eastern mountains beat off three Red probing attacks. And in the west, raiding U.N. patrols got into a stiff fight with entrenched Chinese west of Yonchon.

The big air battle flamed in northwest Korea as B-29s from Okinawa rained 100,000 pounds of high explosives on the Namsi

British Ban Road Traffic In Suez Area

Troops Grab Strategic Points Along Canal; Rail Service Cut

CAIRO, EGYPT, Oct. 23—(AP)—The British army sharply cut rail traffic and banned all road movement in the Suez Canal area at dawn today.

The traffic cuts will remain in force until dock laborers, boycotting the unloading of British supply ships at the military port of Adabia, about ten miles south of Suez, go back to work, a British military spokesman said.

The British seized the harbor and railway station at Port Suez last night.

A limited number of trains will be run. They will be operated by British army crews. One passenger train and one freight train daily will be permitted to cross the canal to supply Egyptian troops on the east side of the canal, the British spokesman announced. Food trains for Egyptian civilians throughout the canal zone also will operate.

The British denied Egyptian reports that they used a squadron of tanks to take the railway shops and station at Port Suez last night. Only "six or seven" armored vehicles were on the move in the area yesterday, the spokesman said.

Hold Key Points

But British troops are stationed at switches and crossings from Port Said to Suez, along the full 104-mile length of the canal, he disclosed.

British soldiers have been searching every Egyptian entering the canal area since Oct. 17 and have been ransacking boxcars to prevent "organized gangs" from infiltering the control

Baby A-Bomb Successful, AEC Reports

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 23 — (AP)—Americans, always in awe of size, had something different to ponder today: the successful detonation of an atomic weapon so small it flared less than a TNT blast, yet so powerful it demolished a 100-foot steel tower.

Yesterday's amazing test may have ushered in the age of the baby A-bomb. No test was scheduled today but there may be another bigger blast tomorrow.

Tight lipped Atomic Energy Commission officials conceded there wouldn't be a smaller explosion than "operation pinpoint" which started a series of blasts at the AEC's Nevada proving ground that probably will run through this week and next.

Many observers, including some military men just back from Korea, found it difficult to believe that a nuclear explosion could emit light for a mere fraction of a second, and make less noise than a heavy artillery shot.

"It was an experiment where we were looking for an answer—and we got it," Dr. Graves added without elaborating.

Report Third Atomic Blast In Russia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—(AP)—A third atomic blast has occurred in Russia, the White House announced late yesterday, and "there may be more such explosions from time to time."

Giving those bare details, White House Press Secretary Joseph Short said the new atomic blast in the Soviet was "apparently part of a test series."

The announcement came on the same day that the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) set off a puzzlingly small A-blast on the Frenchman's Flat testing ground near Las Vegas, Nev.

Can Wreck U. S., He Says in Iowa

Taft Declares Unrestricted Military Spending Fatal

DES MOINES, Oct. 23 — (AP) — Profligate military spending, says Senator Taft (R-Ohio), threatens the "whole economic stability of the United States."

In what he called a "non-campaign" speech before about 1,200 persons at the Iowa Bankers Association convention last night Taft said:

"I doubt if under this administration, which believes so largely in spending for spending's sake, there ever will be a cut in the military program before the whole country is wrecked," adding that "up to this time Mr. Truman has only one remedy—more and more taxes."

Has 2 Recommendations

The senator, the only announced presidential candidate for 1952, made two recommendations for solving the nation's financial difficulties.

"We should set up a combined military and civilian commission to determine whether this tremendous military program is really necessary to its present extent.

"We should seriously consider the proper limits of government spending in the United States. The only real solution is to cut expenses, balance the budget, and limit taxes to 25 percent of the national income."

The senator, in one of a few departures from his text, said:

"I feel very strongly that this administration did not regret the military extension (spending program) pending before Korea.

"The economic strength of this country can be sapped and weakened," he said, and that is the "one thing that can destroy us."

BOOTS GETS BEST OF CARE. Although she's only a mongrel, Boots, family pet of the Charles Schaffers of Chicago, gets best of care from three Schaffer youngsters, Jacqueline, Charles and Bert (left to right). The dog was overcome by fumes from leaky refrigerator recently. But Boots is getting perky thanks to the oxygen and penicillin administered by the family. They were told the two items could help the dog so they got the oxygen cylinder (left) and made oxygen "tent" out of two cardboard boxes in which Boots sits.

Guests of City System

C. of C. Representatives Tour Marion Schools

Thirty-one members of the Marion Chamber of Commerce "went back to school" yesterday as the guests of the Marion City School system.

The C. of C. representatives had been invited to make a tour of city schools to acquaint themselves with the operation of classes

The tour started at 10.30 at the new State Street Junior High School where, for one hour, the guests attended classes and watched regular classroom discussions carried on. The tourists were then guests of the city school staffs in the cafeteria for lunch.

Hear Report on Programs

Following the lunch, the group adjourned to the music room at the school where reports on various work programs carried on in the city school system were discussed.

Three brief addresses were given by faculty members Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal at Glenwood Elementary School, spoke on visual aids and Miss Violet McBride, principal of Oakland Heights Elementary School, spoke on the reading program in Marion schools. Miss Philomen Gregg, principal of Pearl Street and Greenwood Elementary Schools, discussed "The Language Arts."

Visit Grade Schools

The guests were then divided into smaller groups and taken on visits to the various elementary schools during the afternoon session.

The program was a follow-up on the Business, Industry and Education Day sponsored earlier this year by the C. of C. At that time faculty members of the city schools and St. Mary Parochial School were guests of various industrial firms for a tour of the shops and plants a contest prize was won by Mrs. Emma Campbell.

Ashworth Elected Club Co-Ed Head

John Ashworth was elected president of the Y.M.C.A. Club Co-Ed Council when the group held its second meeting of the school year recently. Others elected were Dick Tway, vice president; Carol Sparks, secretary, and Judy Schill, assistant secretary.

Committee chairmen appointed were Rosemary Baxter, publicity, assisted by Marty Gamble; Sue Smith, band, assisted by Joanne Hofstetter, and Joe Buettin, decorations, assisted by Linda Gilmore.

The first event to be planned by the new officers is a Halloween dance, scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 27, from 9 to 12 p.m. at Club Co-Ed. Mack Finch's band will play for dancing.

Betsy Ross Auxiliary Backs Proposed Levy

The Betsy Ross Auxiliary to Marion Camp No 32, United Spanish War Veterans, voted to endorse the proposed 4-mill school operating levy and also make a contribution of $5 to the Marion Community Fund campaign at a meeting held Friday afternoon in the Grotto hall.

Following the meeting, a dinner for members of the auxiliary and camp was served. About 40 were present

Mrs. Vella Hogan, president, presided for the meeting, and Mrs. Hattie Richards, chaplain, conducted devotions. Plans were made for a birthday dinner honoring those who celebrate birthday anniversaries in October, November and December to be held at the next meeting, Nov. 16.

For the program, Mrs Edna Shetterly read a poem, "My Country," and during the social hour

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Dr. Christian's 15th Anniversary

Another anniversary, the fifteenth, has rolled around for the good gray country Doctor Christian, one of the perennial wonders of radio. Gee, how time flies. It seems only yesterday that Dr. Christian, who, as any fool knows, is just an alias for Jean Hersholt, performed an appendectomy with a kitchen knife on the son of a fisherman.

That was Mr. Hersholt's first radio operation; it was his first program, as a matter of fact, and it took place in November 1937. It was an afternoon soap opera in those days; today it still has a lot of soap in its ears but it has for many years been an evening half-hour program (CBS 8:30 p. m. E.S.T. Wednesdays) which gives it the illusion of respectability. In 15 years, Dr. Hersholt—he's got so many honorary degrees that it's disrespectful to address him as mister—has carved up ailing citizens by the hundredweight, all within sound of a microphone.

John Crosby

THE PROGRAM claims an audience of 11,000,000 people which is a lot of people. It's a rather curious audience, composed in large part of the chronically sick or disabled whose interest in medical matters is probably a little deeper than that of the rest of us. As a rule, the medical profession is a touchy thing to write about, the doctors scrutinizing every syllable with grave distrust. This doesn't apply to Hersholt. Doctors, especially country doctors which is what he plays in Dr. Christian, have taken him to their heart and even write him and ask for solutions to their problems, a new twist on an old relationship. Many of them have gone out to see him in Hollywood.

The reason for this acceptance is simply that medicine is pretty largely avoided except in the most general terms. Dr. Christian dispenses a lot of other things besides pills — psychiatry, marital advice, heart balm, philosophy — and in these fields the doctors allow free rein. The rainfall on Dr. Christian sometimes is pretty heavy.

The program bills itself as written by the audience which is slightly misleading. Anyone can take a crack at writing a Dr. Christian script and by now, most everyone has. The amateurs win more often than the professionals and frequently are so stimulated by their prizes—anywhere from $250 to $2,000 — that they enter what is sometimes erroneously referred to as the writing game in place of genuinely useful employment and are miserable for the rest of their lives.

FIRST OF THE $2,000 prizes way back 15 years ago went to a man named John League Oberg who now writes for movies and television and probably has a full quota of ulcers. A girl named Eleanor Tarshis, now associate producer and director on "One Man's Family," used her $2,000 for an operation to restore her eyesight, a plot idea that could easily have been used on Dr. Christian, and for all I know, may have been.

Naturally, the outpourings of these prize-hungry novitiates — they're not always youngsters — are not anything you would confuse with literature. On the fifteenth anniversary, the story, a fairly typical one, concerned a married couple whose young dreams had soured terribly. He had wanted to be a lawyer but the war had torn him from law school and deposited him, after a suitable interval of service, on a farm where his wife slaved from morning till night, growing no younger. They had wanted six children but an auto accident washed maternity out of her future forever. So, in their ninth anniversary, she decided to divorce him.

"I tell you I can't stand it any more. I can't stand it watching his face light up when he sees a child—I love him too much." Wonderful speech. There were a good many others. "No, no . . . I won't let you blame yourselves . . . I won't let you say that or think that." Then Dr. Christian—the mother hen, a sort of male Big Sister—stepped in and straightened things out. When the story ended, the Army was beckoning the husband again, things were no better in the farm and the future looked ever grimmer than the past but somehow the couple out of all this misfortune extracted a note of cheer, conceivably from Dr. Hersholt's chuckle.

Hersholt's warm personality has concealed or at least mitigated a lot of the mawkishness of Dr. Christian for 15 years now and I expect he'll continue to cover up for the amateur authors for another fifteen. Anyhow, happy birthday, Doc.

TALKS ON HYMN WRITERS

When the Emma Berger Bible Class of Calvary E.U.B. Church met Thursday night, Mrs. J. W. Baker talked on Ohio hymn writers during program hour. Business preceding was conducted by Mrs. Ellis Epley. Miss Vera Stull, the teacher, led devotions and Mrs. A. L. Wood and Mrs. Otto Rueger sang. Mrs. O. D. Myers gave a reading and directed contests. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Hazel Evans, Mrs. Roscoe Ruhlman, Mrs. Margaret Zachman, Mrs. Ora Bensley and Mrs. Gertrude Myers.

India Missionary To Speak Friday At Claridon Church

Rev. David A. Seamands, missionary to India and a district superintendent of the Methodist Church there, will be at the Claridon Methodist Church Friday night, speaking at 8 o'clock.

A missionary under the Board of Foreign Missions of the denomination, he comes from a missionary family and is a son of Dr. E. A. Seamands, missionary in India 30 years, and was born and went to school in India. His college and seminary education were received in this country, and he has his master's degree from Hartford Seminary in Connecticut.

Serving India five years, he has been head of a high school of several hundred students, directed activities of a clinic, and is superintendent of the Bidar District. He has pioneered in various forms of evangelism and his seen many hundreds converted to Christianity. A brother, Rev. John T. Seamands, is a missionary in India and director of the Methodist Advance for Christ and His Church there.

CIRCLE NAMES SECRETARY

Mrs. Jacob Bolinger was elected and installed as secretary of Friendship Circle of Sosnowski Rebekah Lodge at a meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Clayton Baughman of near Marion. She replaces Mrs. Lulu Merchant, who resigned. A donation of $20 for a neighboring lodge was voted upon and approved. Plans were made for the annual birthday dinner to be held Nov. 13 in the I.O.O.F. Hall. Contest prizes went to Mrs. Esta Thatcher, Mrs. Eleanor Triplett, Mrs. Ila Hall, Mrs. Matilda Bollinger, Mrs. Belma Quinn, Mrs. Myrtle Snyder, and Mrs. Hattie Richard.

Says Need Clearly Demonstrated

City Makes Its Case For Air Service In Brief Filed With CAB

Declaring the need for local air service was clearly demonstrated in previous hearings before the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, the city of Marion in a brief filed with the CAB asks that the board provide the service by

1 Re-certifying Trans World Airlines to serve the city on its Pittsburgh-Chicago flights for a period of not less than three years and

2. Approving the application of Lake Central Airlines to extend its service to Ohio with Marion as a stop on its routes

The brief, prepared by J B Bray, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee, and Harry L Dowler, former mayor, took exception to CAB Examiner R Vernon Radcliffe's recommendation that 1 Lake Central's application be turned down on the grounds that air potential in Ohio did not warrant the proposed service and 2. Trans World Airlines serve Marion and Mansfield on a joint basis.

One Would Lose Service

Marion and Mansfield at present are both being served by T W A on its Pittsburgh-Chicago trunk line route but one city would lose the service if Radcliffe's recommendation is accepted by the board Marion has been served since last September

"The city of Marion would most certainly not have constructed a Class 3 airport at a total cost in excess of $800,000 had its people the slightest inkling that it would be used for only a year by a certified carrier," the brief said

Both Marion and Mansfield have developed considerable air traffic and "it is ridiculous to believe that the traffic potential of one or the other can be diverted to the city selected . . . to be served," the brief declared "If this were true the commencement of service at Marion on Sept 1, 1950, would have shown some reducing effect on the Mansfield operation. This has not been the case as traffic at Mansfield has continued to increase." Passenger traffic at Marion during the first eight months of 1951 shows as average increase of 33 percent over the last four months of 1950, the brief said.

Redesigned for T.W.A.

The brief noted that T W A was consulted before final plans for the airport were completed and runways were redesigned at the airline's suggestion.

In support of its contention that there is considerable air traffic here, the brief noted that in the first year of operation, which included three months of one of the severest winters on record, some 2,000 passengers embarked or disembarked at the Marion airport. In the first eight months, nearly 37,000 pounds of outbound express was handled here Outgoing airmail has averaged 900 pounds per month.

The brief further noted that this traffic development occurred without local promotion of any consequence on the part of T W A. and under the handicap of an airline rule which limits weight of single packages to 200 pounds Local industries are forced to truck heavier shipments to the Columbus airport.

Lake Central Position

Concerning Lake Central's request, the brief said:

"The city of Marion does not agree with the viewpoint that local air service between Columbus and Detroit, with Marion and Toledo as intermediate stops, will have a detrimental revenue effect on existing trunk line service between Columbus and Detroit On the contrary we contend that local air service between these points would supplement the trunk carrier service and is definitely needed for the public convenience.

"The people and industries in the Marion trading area have no air service to the important gateway and terminal cities of Cleveland, Dayton, Detroit, and Toledo at the present time They feel such service should be provided for them by the board in the form of approving the application of Lake Central Airlines in this case

"The air service needs of the city of Marion can be stated simply these needs have not changed during the several years we have been appearing before the board

"The people, and the industries, within the seven county Marion trading area need air service to the gateway and terminal cities of Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Detroit, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh and Toledo. The board recognizes these needs in its decision in the Great Lakes Area Case We therefore respectfully request the board at this time to provide Marion with this needed service"

Not only Marion, but many other Ohio cities affected by Radcliffe's recommendations have filed objections to his report along with the Ohio Aviation Board and Lake Central Airlines

Hearing Set

An oral hearing on the exceptions taken by these protestants will be held in Washington Oct 30

Attending from Marion will be Mayor Harold F Robinson, former mayor Dowler and Mr Bray, who will act as spokesman, presenting the city's case in a ten-minute argument.

Their Business Is Trouble

IF FRESH hope of peace rises from the cease-fire parleys in Korea, it will soon be destroyed. The one thing that's certain about the Communist conspirators at this stage of the game is that they won't cease to make trouble.

The only reason they might call off trouble in Korea is because if they could whip up a holy war among the Moslems in India, that would be even better.

Trouble is the business of the Communist conspirators. Wherever they operate, they are alert to opportunities to make capital out of the past and present mistakes of the governments and societies they hope to destroy some day.

Many attempts to explain what motivates the conspirators have been made, but they fail to tell the whole story because they omit a key element in the psychology which makes the Communist conspiracy dangerous.

Its strategists have exploited the presence in humankind of a bitterly dissatisfied minority eager to overthrow everything that exists. In this way, members of the minority hope to get even with the world. They are the shock troops of the Kremlin's campaign to conquer the world.

There will be no lack of trouble for Communist strategists to stir up, even though Korea may be allowed some day to rebuild its villages and count its numerous dead and maimed.

Mr. Truman's Favorite Dish

VIEWED as a proposition in politics, which is exactly what it is, the appointment of Gen. Mark Clark to be U. S. ambassador to Vatican City is a chance for President Truman to enjoy his favorite dish—politics.

While religionists are pointing with pride and viewing with alarm and anti-Communists are figuring the angles on their favorite point of view, Mr. Truman and his advisers can chuckle quietly over the success of one of the oldest stunts in politics.

The Clark appointment will give the people something to talk about besides influence peddlers, corrupt public officials and the sad state of affairs inside the Democratic party.

Because it is concerned with one of the most explosive issues in the United States—the relationship of church and state—it will be a minor miracle if Republicans can touch the matter without hurting themselves.

In effect, everything about it promises to be good for Mr. Truman and bad for his critics. Gen. Clark, himself, is a hotly-controversial figure and will add fuel to the flames.

By the time the controversy has burned itself out, the unsavory list of indictments against the good faith of the Truman Administration will have been mislaid in public memory.

There has been no instance of record in which Harry Truman has done anything without a strong political motive. The appointment of Gen. Clark to represent the United States at Vatican City is no exception.

Schoolboy Goats

PERHAPS the topsy-turviness of the times explains why the public can get more excited because schoolboy athletes accepted bribes to influence the score in a basketball game than it can because businessmen and government officials have entered into collusion to mulct the treasury of the United States.

The only victims of the score-rigging were professional gamblers and their clients. The persons who are most concerned with bringing the malefactors to justice are other professional gamblers and their clients—the ones who were played for suckers. They have an important stake in running down the schoolboy goats who threatened organized gambling.

Unless the breath of scandal can be averted from the kind of basketball played by squads representing schools which are using this game to draw attention to themselves, professional gambling will take a costly setback. The zeal being applied to the eradication of bribery among schoolboy athletes is commendable. If it were applied equally to the eradication of bribery among public officials it would be miraculous.

Boundless Appreciation

THE entire month of November has been set aside by the American Legion for appreciation of America. The cause is so worthy that nothing but credit will redound to its sponsors.

There should be special emphasis placed on the fact that the thing which sets Americans apart from other nationality groups is their vigorous use of their freedom and the jealousy with which they guard it.

Other countries too, have natural resources, rocks, rills and templ'd hills, but America alone has the tradition that a man may use his freedom as he pleases, as long as it does not violate any of the rights of his neighbors.

In America there is no thought control. There are no subjects closed to questioning. There are no individuals, not even in government who may tell a free citizen what he must believe or punish him for believing something which may happen to disagree with something they believe.

Ambassador to Vatican

By David Lawrence

Seen as Truman Political Maneuvering

WASHINGTON

THE BIGGEST piece of political news that has developed in many months is the announcement from the White House that President Truman has formally nominated an ambassador to the Vatican.

This does not necessarily mean, as some observers have said already, a stimulus to friction between Protestants and Catholics in America. For the majority of Americans are not swayed by such prejudices and the plan has yet to go through Congress. But it does mean a piece of political maneuvering by President Truman in behalf of the Democratic party which politicians will concede does play a part in election campaigns.

LAWRENCE

Thus, many of the big city machines or organizations which can swing the electoral votes of several large states are led by Democrats who happen to be Catholics. There is no such thing as a Catholic vote or a Protestant vote or Jewish vote so far as the nation is concerned but politicians say that in marginal contests in certain localities the size of some one religious group is just enough to wield the balance of power.

It has been recorded that for the last several months Protestant groups have been arguing with President Truman publicly and privately that by sending an ambassador to the Vatican he would be recognizing a church and committing the United States to a doctrine which is the opposite of that in vogue—namely, separation of church and state.

MR. TRUMAN has been considering the problem ever since Myron Taylor, former head of the U. S. Steel Corporation, who was not technically an ambassador but a "personal representative of the President," came home from the mission to the Vatican which the late President Roosevelt originally entrusted to him. Congress in that instance was bypassed and the embarrassment of a political contest on the issue was avoided because the White House never asked for an appropriation to pay the expenses of the ambassador to the Vatican. It so happened that Mr. Taylor was wealthy enough to pay his own expenses in Italy where he had had a winter home for many years.

Now, however, the situation is different. Congress will have to vote funds. The Senate will have to confirm or reject that nomination of Gen. Mark Clark — wartime commander in Italy — who has been nominated as an ambassador if formal diplomatic relations which were interrupted in 1868 are to be resumed. The President might give General Clark a recess appointmet but then the General loses his Army pay unless Congress passes a special act and that can't happen till January when the nomination would have to go to the Senate again.

IT DOES LOOK as if there will be three ways by which the issue will arise—on General Clark's pay, on funds for the new embassy staff, and on the nomination of the ambassador himself. It seems likely that if the members of Congress want to kill the plan they will seek ways to avoid giving offense to constituents who happen to be Catholics vitally concerned about this issue. If they hold up the change in General Clark's pay, for example, they might find technical grounds for doing it which they will say has nothing to do with the embassy he is filling. There lately has been sentiment against sending any military men to diplomatic posts of which there have been a number so designated since the war.

Maybe Mr. Truman, who is a shrewd politician, doesn't really expect the plan to go through at all but is contriving to be able to say that at least he made a sincere gesture and that Congress frustrated his plan. Maybe he is thinking of the embarrassment he is going to cause certain Republicans who run for Congress in 1952 when the Democratic nominees take a look at the way such Republicans voted on the issue of sending an envoy to the Vatican. As a vehicle of political mischief the issue has real potentialities and Mr. Truman is well aware of that fact.

ON ITS MERITS and quite apart from politics, the question of sending an ambassador to the Vatican is rightly defended on the ground that the Catholic Church throughout the world and especially behind the "iron curtain" has a vast network of important sources from which diplomatic information of value to the United States in fighting Communism is obtained. That is the official reason given by President Truman now and it resembles the reason the late President Roosevelt gave when he sought the benefits of Vatican information from enemy countries during wartime.

The mystery is why the President has not pressed that same point during the last year and a half during which the vacancy caused by Mr. Taylor's resignation has been left unfilled. This correspondent predicted in a dispatch before the Korean war began that the Administration eventually would furnish aid to Spain and would send an envoy to the Vatican because domestic political considerations would influence such a decision as an offset to the State Department's apparent desire then to recognize the Chinese Communists. There is less interest now in recognizing the Chinese Communists but there is considerable interest on the part of the President and the State Department in breaking down the McCarthy influence among Catholics. Also if the President now gives a recess nomination to General Clark can there be criticism from the McCarthy followers if the President gives a recess appointment to Ambassador Jessup?

SO THE LATEST bit of political countermaneuvering will be regarded in political circles as both adroit and clever though it is too early to say how strong a retaliatory current of hostility it will provoke in the camp of those who feel deeply that the resumption of diplomatic relations with the Vatican is a mistake. It could be that the influence of such an episode among opponents and proponents has been exaggerated. Other issues doubtless will still determine whether the present Administration as a whole shall be endorsed or rejected at the polls in 1952.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A notable day in Marion was on Sept. 28, 1863, when a great Union meeting was held. A crowd estimated at 20,000 attended. Townships and adjoining counties sent large delegations, each apparently trying to outdo the other. With each delegation were long wagons, supplied with tiers of seats one above the other, upon which were seated young women wearing white dresses and rich, elaborate sashes and turbans in red, white and blue. Hundreds of men and women on horseback, the men in uniform, added to the picturesque scene.

MacArthur, Republican Keynoter

By George E. Sokolsky

GENERAL DOUGLAS MACARTHUR is introducing into current American politics an altogether new tone. He has by self-appointment made himself the philosophic leader of the Republican party. It is important to note that his acceptance has been almost universal in the rank and file of the party and by extraordinarily large number of non-party persons and Democrats, particularly southern Democrats. While it is impossible even to hope now for a reorganization of parties to include men of identical views in each party, it is not impossible to rally citizens of divergent views about the personality of General MacArthur.

SOKOLSKY

He is able, as he did in his Miami speech, to establish a basis for the Republican platform and for the campaign that is to be fought. The Republicans dare not, even if they would, ignore the position adopted by General MacArthur because he has clarified issues which they have been developing, thus ending confusion. Senators Lodge, Saltonstall, Ives, Duff and Morse can not reject MacArthur without inperiling themselves.

Secondly, while General MacArthur is not a candidate for the Presidency, the Republican rank and file accept his judgment as to the availability of a candidate. Because his judgment is based not on personality but on principle, those who would contest his intellectual leadership will have to attack his principles, which cannot be done without defending President Harry Truman, General George Marshall and Dean Acheson, and that no Republican can do and survive.

THIS WAS General MacArthur's achiement before the American Legion in Miami. Many reached the conclusion that General MacArthur did not, on that occasion, endorse Senator Taft. Actually, he did. By one stroke, he made it impossible for either General Eisenhower or Thomas E. Dewey to assume any form of leadership in the party without a quarrel over his propositions, a quarrel which would so split the party as to guarantee a Democratic victory. Should their leadership assert itself and succeed, then his has failed. The issue is as clear as that, should Taft become the leader and candidate. MacArthur's keynote speech stands, for they are in agreement.

It was a political tour de force and may yet achieve a greater unity in the party than has existed since 1936. For whereas many Republicans favor Eisenhower, none can afford to oppose MacArthur in principle except Wayne Morse, who, from the standpoint of the party, does not matter much.

The danger to Senator Taft's aspirations is that many who are opposed to him may turn from Eisenhower to MacArthur as a candidate. Should Winston Churchill become prime minister at 77, the argument against MacArthur becoming President at 73 would be weakened. And if age is gauged by arteries, MacArthur is as young as he looks.

THE TAFT MANAGEMENT seems to be assured that this will not happen and, at this stage, it is not very important. What does matter is that "me-tooism," the invention of Wendell Willkie, and the bipartisan foreign policy, the product of Senator Vandenberg, John Foster Dulles and Thomas E. Dewey, are dead. It must be remembered that in 1944, Dewey and Roosevelt, through General George Marshall, reached an agreement limiting the debate within specific margins. In effect, this was an agreement between the Democratic and the Republican parties to withhold from the American people specific data which they were entitled to have discussed in a Presidential campaign.

Such Republicans as Herbert Hoover and Robert A. Taft were openly opposed to this arrangement when it was made, but they were overwhelmed by the war atmosphere of the time.

Now, however, MacArthur has brought the consequences of these arrangements to public attention in so eloquent a projection of his own philosophy that no Republican can risk his wrath. He has made Marshall, Acheson and Eisenhower and what they have stood for since 1945, and possibly since 1943, the Republican issue. He did not limit himself to Korea or China or even to foreign policy. He made it all of one piece and then mounted our domestic affairs on top of it and showed it to be toppling over. To deny the accuracy of his bill of particulars would be futile; the facts establish not only the sureness of his findings but the reliability of his data. To contest his facts is to support those offered by Acheson, which would leave the Republicans without an issue.

From the Miami speech until the Republican convention on July 7, 1952, MacArthur will be the keynoter of his party.

Daily Bible Thought

Look for decent things, kindly things, lovely things. Look for good, even in imperfect people and in an imperfect world. There is corruption in the world but we do not have to limit our interest to it. Better throw the book away: "The lamp of the body is the eye; if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light."—Matt. 6:22.

Monomania

By TRUMAN TWILL

AT THE risk of hurting some political corns, this is going to be about the phrase "total politician," used by Jesse Jones in his memoirs, to describe the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The Texas financier meant that Mr. Roosevelt had a single motive for everything he did. He was so wrapped up in politics that he never thought of anything else, which explains a number of things that puzzled persons who had other things to think about and ran head-first into Mr. Roosevelt's "monomania."

Many Americans have this same affliction, though not always with the same manifestations. Military men think exclusively about war, which is why the American people traditionally are afraid of the "military mind." And it is certainly common for industrialists, dentists, entertainers and theologians to get so wrapped up in their specialties they put everything else out of their minds and eventually become devoted to their own ignorance.

It is still considered unusual for a housewife, despite a generation of suffrage, to be informed about anything but the price of eggs. Shoemakers stick to their lasts, and pretzels makers mind their P's and Q's.

Though it is fundamental doctrine in a republic that every question has at least two sides and both sides must be talked about, millions of Americans are so one-sided they reject as either nonsense or treason what their neighbors with other interests are thinking and saying. Pressure-bloc government was not invented by the people who are famous for mastery of its techniques. It is the natural result of the monomania of the people, themselves.

Labor leaders concentrate on kicking the stuffing out of managers. Managers become specialists in kicking the stuffing out of labor leaders. Doctors don't have the remotest idea why the public lends an ear to proposals for doing something about the high cost of hard luck, and socializers have no patience with doctors who refuse to burn down the barn to get out the horse.

It is admittedly much easier to make up your mind when only one side of a question is known, but that is a foolish way to run a republic, unless the idea is to run it into the ground. Monomania in individuals leads to monomania in groups, and monomania in groups is the last stop before monomanical government finally sends all dissenters to concentration camps and makes monomania a way of life for the country.

There is not one chance in a million that American monomaniacs can be saved from their affliction, but there is an outside chance they can be prevented from inflicting their one-sidedness on American society. There is more than an outside chance that Woodrow Wilson knew what he was talking about when he said that opinion ultimately governs the world—not just one opinion but all opinions. It finally turned out that Wilson, himself, became a monomaniac of sorts, but that only shows how easy it is to get hypped on one point of view.

Congress Quiz

Q—I notice ex-congressmen occasionally register as lobbyists. Do they have any advantage over other lobbyists?

A—Yes. They have the privilege of the floor of the House or Senate and can talk to congressmen there and in the private cloakrooms. Other lobbyists must wait in the halls or visit congressional offices in order to talk to a lawmaker.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Make Mine Vanilla!

"The company broke records for the last quarter, with a net of nearly $80,000,000 as against $73,840,000 in the same quarter a year ago. This was equal to $2.10 per share as against the higher figure of $2.64 in the 1950 period."—News item.

"You had a great year," the harrassed stockholder said to the corporation head, quoting the above figures.

PHILLIPS

"Yes indeed," he replied sadly. Our business is increasing by such leaps and bounds that we are rapidly reaching the stage at which we can hardly hold our own."

"Your prospects for next year are for even more business, aren't they?" asked the stockholder nervously.

"That's the trouble," said the company head, knee-deep in tax forms, with a sigh. "I tell you it takes courage these days to see our business grow, realizing that it can ultimately ruin us."

"I used to think," said the stockholder, "that it was shrewd to invest in a growing corporation."

"Didn't we all!" exclaimed the company chief. "It seems only yesterday that a man could have his savings in a highly successful business corporation and be pleased by a report of growth and progress."

"How did your company do ten years ago?" asked the shareholder.

"We had a very good year a decade back, but then trouble set in."

"Just how?"

"Our customers increased. Orders began to double and treble. Our gross hit new highs every year. At first we weren't terribly alarmed, even with taxes what they were that far back. But for the past few years we couldn't hear of another session of Congress without knowing that continued success in business might mean the end of everything."

"But when you see that the company is going to have a very fine year, isn't there something you can do to avert it?" pleaded the stockholder.

"It's very difficult," said the corporation head. "There have been several solutions suggested. One was that we base our advertising campaigns on a drive for less business and fewer customers. It was even thought we might urge the public to patronize some other company, but that would be a dirty trick to play on a competitor."

"How true!" moaned the stockholder. "But is management so short of brains that it can't find men capable of solving a situation where a company is face to face with record success?"

"Only a few executives are that capable," was the reply. "Their training has been all wrong. They came up in a school which thought more customers, bigger sales and a higher net were desirable. This is a fallacy."

"You're telling me!" groaned the stockholder. "I have been selling my shares in some top corporations. They're much too successful. Could you give me any advice as to whether to hold my stocks in your company or not?"

The corporation head was a candid man. "I want to be on the level," he said sternly. "Naturally I prefer not to say yes or no. But this is one of the most successful corporations in America and the world. The demand for our product is enormous. Next year we may gross twice what we did this year. Need I say more?"

"Certainly not!" cried the stockholder, making a mad rush to sell all, stop trying to figure things and go clam-digging.

Jesse Jones says that the late President Roosevelt tried to get him, as RFC head, to buy the Empire State Building. Yet in those days everybody was away up in the air trying to get down!

Elmer Ewitchell, student of world events, says the fight for the Suez Canal may be due to the fact everybody is trying to get a "cut" these days.

"Mr. Stoneham of the Giants said he hadn't heard of any proposal by the Coogans to sell the Polo Grounds."—News item. Just a Coogan's bluff, he may think.

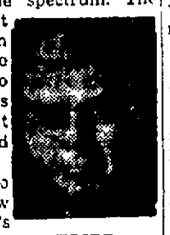
Moths Carry Matches

By FRANK TRIPP

WHEN THE moths get after you, you're in for it. The miserable critters don't take any summer vacation and when you get back from yours like as not they've perforated your best suit right where it shows most—and left you to find it out when you suddenly need it badly.

The weather got a mite nippy and I got out a heavier suit; one that was to see me through Winter, in the blue spectrum. The moths had spent the summer on the front of the coat; bored two holes big as dimes right where you could not miss 'em.



TRIPP

So I says to Fanny: "How come, what's happened to the bomb squad? Look at my coat! Your department is slipping."

She felt awful bad about it and rushed to the closet where the coat had hung to see what further toll the moths had taken. She came back and said: "Strange; nothing else in there has been touched.

"Well," I says, "moths are smart They saw the price tag that was left in the pocket. You should be careful about that. Don't let moths see prices. They always eat the highpriced stuff."

"Oh yeah," she beamed. "It's funny that nothing else in there was touched. I'm going to look into it."

THERE WAS A CALL waiting when I arrived at the office.

"Anna and I had the microscope on that coat of yours," Fanny phoned.

"Did you catch the culprits?" I asked her

"Culprits nothing she said. "Those aren't mothholes"

"Well now, don't tell me that. I saw 'em."

"They're cigaret burns," she said gaily. "—and don't you try to blame your own carelessness on my housekeeping. You know they're cigaret burns."

"Couldn't possibly be," I said. "When I last wore that coat I was off cigarets; was smoking a pipe. Pipes don't burn holes"

"What do you mean they don't? You used to burn up a shirt a week when you were a baseball writer," she remembered.

"That wasn't a pipe," I told her. "That was when I rolled my own with Bull Durham that I got for reporting the players' homers to the company You'll find that moths made the holes all right."

"If they did they carried matches; for those holes go straight through the lining too." Then she hung up.

SHE HAD ME. And where the hair is short, because I've burned as many holes in clothes as moths have eaten. Nevertheless I was sort of tickled. On account of the insurance, which doesn't cover moths but does cigarets.

That was my out when I got home that night, but she was too cute for me.

"It's going to cost you $10 apiece to get those holes rewoven," she said. "Twenty dollars because you toss your butts around like a baseball—remember that rug Besides you're not insured this time."

"Of course I am," I boasted

"What about that $25 deductible clause? You said we had to stand the first $25 loss on every claim."

"Gosh, that's right," I admitted. "I forgot about that. What of it? We saved $120 on the premium that way, so we're still $100 to the good."

Then I got it· "Somehow, though it never makes sense, you can always squirm out of every fix you get in and make it look like you planned it that way," she said.

"Well, we did save $120 on the premium, didn't we?" I asked her.

"Sure—and I suppose, the way you figure it, you can burn ten more holes in your clothes at $10 a hole and still be even," she said.

"NOW YOU'RE GETTING somewhere," I puffed up and told her. "That's the trouble with women. They can't see the long range phase of things; never figure for the long pull"

"Like that Midwest Utilities that you bought me—for the long pull," she twitted. "Wasn't even good wallpaper."

"But"—

"And how about the time you packed the deep freeze full of beef the day before the price dropped 15 cents a pound?" She was laughing.

"But"—was as far as I got.

"You and your long pull! If I live to be a hundred I'll never forget the night you went out with 45 cents to buy two lamb chops —and came home with a picture of a bonfire that you saw in a window; that horrible chromo that still hangs down in your shop. The last 45 cents we had."

"But"—

"You should talk to me about long pull. We ate crackers and milk that night"

Her pretty face brightened.

"You're a good egg just the same. Come over here, I love you," she purred.

It made me feel swell, but I could only say "But—," and took her in my arms.

"Wait a minute, big boy," she said between kisses. "There goes your $100. You just burned a hole in the back of my dress."

We're negotiating, but she'll never settle for less than the hundred—I'm pretty sure.

PROTESTANTS PROTEST. A storm of protest is emanating from Protestant quarters over President Truman's appointment of four-star Gen. Mark Clark as ambassador to the Vatican. Church leaders say having an ambassador to the Vatican is a violation of U. S. tradition of separation of church and state.

Westminster Fellowship Holds Rally

The Westminster Fellowship of the Marion Presbytery held its fall rally at Holiday Hill near Delaware Sunday evening with an attendance of approximately 200 young people. Included in the group were 35 members from Marion.

A worship service was in charge of Miriam Hale of Upper Sandusky after which there was a series of group meetings and a recreation hour followed by supper.

The evening worship service was planned by the faith and life program group, with Rev. Roger Sillers of Marysville as leader Janet Frew of Marion, moderator, read the Westminster purpose and led the group in singing the Westminster Fellowship hymn. Speaker was Richard Bauer, moderator of the Westminster Fellowship synod of Ohio who spoke on the work of the fellowship group in local, state and national areas. He also urged the members to attend the state youth rally of the Ohio Christian Youth movement.

A Halloween party was held by the 298th Engineer Wives Club Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Jennings at No. 2 Hughes court. In a business session, plans were discussed for a Christmas dinner party to be held Dec. 15 at the Roehr House in Bucyrus. Guests were Mrs. Lester Sigler and Mrs. Jesse Downs. Contest honors were won by Mrs. William Weston, Mrs. Lewis Markley, Mrs. Downs, Mrs. Sigler and Mrs. James Gast. The hostess was assisted by Mr. Homer Frost. Decorations throughout the house were in keeping with the Halloween theme.

Marion Garden Center Notes

AUTUMN EFFECTS

Of the effects which autumn produces on all vegetation it is hardly necessary to say that the garden may be greatly enriched by trees, shrub and flower arrangements designed to take advantage of the changing color due to the seasonal ripening and gradual cessation of growth. In selecting material for such a composition it is necessary to know the color which each individual planting will contribute and also to know the sequence in which one will follow the other in the color procession, precisely as one must know the colors of each kind of flower in a mixed border and when each will bloom.

It is well to keep in mind that in natural landscapes the color pageant of autumn is greatly enhanced when the deep accents of evergreens appear occasionally. Therefore sufficient evergreen material should be used to give accent, relieve monotony, and give depth to the composition. In general one-tenth evergreen to nine-tenths deciduous is ample.

In selecting plants for color effect in autumn be sure to consider those which bloom as late as possible. These are few in number and brilliance of color. Many spring blooming shrubs contribute to the autumn garden with their berries and fruits they bear in the autumn.

The sun's brightness in candlepower is about four billion billion billion (i. e., four followed by 27 zeros).

Harpster Couple Celebrate 50th Wedding Date

Special to The Star

LITTLE SANDUSKY, Oct. 23—Mr. and Mrs. Finfun Alburtis Fowler, who were married 50 years ago yesterday at the home of Mrs. Fowler's parents near Harpster, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last night with a dinner party at the Bow and Arrow restaurant in Upper Sandusky.

A guest at the dinner was Mr. Fowler's 94-year-old mother, Mrs. Alice Fowler, who lives with her son and daughter-in-law at their farm home near Little Sandusky. Mr. Fowler's father, Hiram Fowler, died several years ago, as did Mrs. Fowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Wood. Mrs. Fowler is the former Grace Alberta Wood.

The Fowlers are the parents of two children, Rush Fowler of Harpster and Mrs. Robert Edie, the former Leefe Alice Fowler, of Toledo.

Guests at the dinner, in addition to Mr. Fowler's mother and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edie and Mr. and Mrs. Rush Fowler, were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClain, Mrs. A. S. Smith, Dwight Fowler, and Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Coleman.

Galion Couple Wed In Saturday Service

GALION—Miss Joanne Marie Bonsteel and Pfc. Jack Hartmann Williams exchanged marriage vows here Saturday.

Simplicity marked the quiet but impressive double service which was read in a closed church ceremony by Rev. Norman R. Somerville at First Methodist Church at 6:30 o'clock.

The former Miss Bonsteel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bonsteel of near Galion. She and her husband were both members of the 1948 graduating class of Galion High School. She was graduated this month from Christ Hospital School of Nursing, Cincinnati, and will begin work soon on the nursing staff of Galion City Hospital. She plans to live with her parents while her husband is in service.

Pfc. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Williams Sr. of Galion. He is stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., with the 3rd Armored Cavalry. Before entering service in August, 1950, he was assistant manager of the Madison theater, Mansfield.

Some Accident Insurance Oddities

Men With Green Hair Stump Loss Engineers

By The Associated Press

THIRTY men in one shop came to work with bright green hair.

Wives joining canasta clubs caused their husbands to have accidents as soon as they started work in the morning.

A builder installed a new safety scaffold to prevent accidents and five plasterers promptly fell off it.

These are some oddities encountered by loss prevention engineers of the mutual casualty insurance companies. They are the men who try to prevent accidents and thereby save money for their policy holders through premium returns.

The green hair turned up around St. Patrick's day and the Irish foreman of a midwestern plant making electrical appliances thought it was a good gag.

But it wasn't a gag. The workers' hair actually had turned green and nobody could understand why. Engineers of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company were called in.

They took air pollution samples. Doctors and dematologists examined the hair and scalps. It took some time, but they found the gremlin.

Seems that armatures made in the plant had to be coated with a certain resin. In the process fumes were created, without excessive ventilation, affected pigmentation in the scalps of those exposed. And so ended a new hairstyle, to the relief of all concerned.

A STAMPING plant in Rhode Island had an excellent safety record. Then occurred a series of minor accidents early in the work day, at an hour when fatigue and other accident-inducing factors were absent.

The men knew their machines, the machines were well guarded, but the accidents continued. Again a call to the insurance engineers.

It was a tough case to crack. They eventually found the cause outside the plant. A canasta craze had hit the mill town. All the wives were joining canasta clubs and playing until long past midnight. They slept late and the men were reporting to work without the big breakfasts they were accustomed to and needed.

The engineers recommended the plant furnish 9:30 coffee and doughnuts from a mobile canteen wheeled about the plant. The accidents stopped abruptly.

UTICA MUTUAL engineers remember the building contractor who asked for an inspection of a new type safety scaffold he had erected. Before the engineers arrived, there was an accident.

Five plasterers were working on the scaffold. Each section had been tested to withstand the weight of an above average man. However, each of the five suddenly decided to walk to the far end for fresh plaster at the exact same time.

The scaffold was 40 feet above the ground when it tipped and collapsed; but fortunately all five survived with nothing worse than than two broken ankles.

ACCURATE SLING SHOTS

LEVELLAND, Tex. —(UP)—Two Levelland men claim a sling shot hunting record by killing 104 rabbits and one badger during a seven-hour period. J. B. Robinson, 28, and B. Mason, 36, used discarded oil tank nuts as ammunition.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

PARIS predicts that buttons and buckles — covered in fabrics that contrast to a frock—will be high-fashion winter sports and evening wear.

For daytime, the buttons can be tartan plaid.

For evening, they can be velvet.

A smart novelty-button maker has come up with an idea by which a woman may cover buttons with fabric at the flick of a finger.

It's a metal button (or buckle) with teeth on the reverse side and a button base into which the top of the button can be snapped.

A woman need only cut out a circle of fabric, wrap it around the button, anchoring it in the teeth on the button back and snap the covered disc into its base.

If she wants to change the covering, she can flick the button out of its base, discard the old cover and start anew.

New Farm Help

WASHINGTON—(AP)—American farmers with labor problems can find a solution in the skilled European farmers now coming into this country from countries under the Communist yoke. Rigidly tested by U. S. agricutural experts on their practical farming experience, the displaced farmers are mostly of German origin who were thrown off their farms by Communists. They are willing to start at the bottom as American farm workers. The more than 1,000 DP farming families are dairymen, poultrymen, cattlemen, wheat and corn farmers, truck farmers and hog raisers, for the most part. Persons interested in sponsoring a displaced farmer may obtain more information by writing to the Displaced Persons Commission, Washington 2, D.C., or to their state Displaced Persons Commission.

that it is asking for blood from military personnel both in U.S. bases and overseas. It expects to get as many pints from 3 4 million service men as the Red Cross is able to wheedle from the 60 million eligible civilians between the ages of 18 and 59. This is the first time the armed forces have been called upon to collect blood here at home.

Ask Say-So In Building Of Hoover Dam

Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District Calls for Plans

The Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District counted itself in today on the operation of Hoover Dam, the United Press reported.

The district notified political subdivisions in the 17-county district, which includes Marion County, that a section of state law provides that no "public corporation" can build a dam or reservoir in the district without first filing plans with the district secretary.

Allen Pretzman, district secretary, told Columbus city council last night that such plans had not been submitted on Hoover Dam, scheduled to be built in Big Walnut creek near Central College northeast of Columbus.

Pretzman said the district could not stop construction of the dam, but that it "would have something to say about how to handle it."

"The city must sit down with us and work out a plan of operation that will not endanger the lives and property of people below it," he said.

Asked whether the section of Ohio law referred to by the district meant that plans for the dam must be approved by the district, Pretzman replied:

"I don't know. It doesn't say so, but we assume it does."

Council referred the conservancy district statement to Service Director Elmer Keller and the law department for checking.

Counties included in the district in addition to Marion are Sandusky, Wyandot, Delaware, Morrow, Crawford, Seneca, Union, Franklin, Madison, Fayette, Pickaway, Ross, Highland, Scioto, Pike and Vinton.

3 Injured In City Traffic Accidents

Mother, Son Hit By Auto; Third Pedestrian Struck

Three pedestrians suffered slight injuries in four traffic accidents yesterday, city police reported today.

Mrs. Ben Atkinson of 773 Bellefontaine avenue and her son, Robert, 6, were treated and released at City Hospital after being injured when struck by an auto driven by Charles R. Whaley, 41, of 209½ North Main street. The accident occurred at the intersection of Bellefontaine and Cheney avenue at 10.10 last night.

Mrs. Atkinson and her son were crossing Cheney avenue at the time of the accident. She suffered injuries to her right hip and head and the boy suffered lacerations on the back of the head. Police estimated the auto was traveling at 15 miles an hour.

Leona McGowan of 130 Park boulevard suffered only slight injuries when hit by an auto yesterday at 5:46 p.m at Park boulevard and Center street. The auto, driven by Roy B. Wise, 56, of 370 South State street, was traveling in reverse. She was treated for a bruised leg by a local physician

Slight damage resulted when a truck owned by the U. S. Postal Department and driven by James W. Douglas, 60, of 330 Belmont street struck a bus owned by the Marion Transit Co, and driven by Wilbur D. Shields, 41, of 238 Avondale avenue. The accident occurred yesterday at 11 26 a.m. at 125 East Center street. The bus was parked at the time.

Waves of Red jets swept in from Manchuria in "one of the heaviest and most determined attacks ever launched against the Superforts by the MIGs," an Air Force announcement said.

3 Separate Battles

The fight broke into three distinct mass battles as escorting Sabre jets and Thunderjets took on the Red attackers. The first broke out at 10 a. m. between 32 Sabres and more than 100 Reds over Namsi. The battle lasted 30 minutes.

Many of the Red planes took part in all three fights.

While Nam Il was silent the Peiping Radio announced changes in the Red delegation, paralleling replacement last week of two members of the U N. truce team.

The broadcast said Chinese Gen. Pien Chiang-Wu would replace Chinese Gen. Tung Hwa, and North Korean Gen. Cheng Du Kon would succeed North Korean Gen. Chang Pyong San.

Truman Gives Jessup Post During Recess

Decision on U.N. Appointment Is Expected Later

WASHINGTON, Oct 23—(AP)—President Truman has given Philip C. Jessup a recess appointment as delegate to the United Nations, labeling charges Jessup has favored Communist causes "patent falseness" that "bordered on fraud."

"The objections to Mr. Jessup's appointment made during the hearings of the Senate (foreign relations) subcommittee seem to me to be erroneous, and in some cases, simply the result of partisan politics," Mr. Truman said in a statement He called Jessup "outstandingly well qualified."

The President made the statement last evening as he announced the appointment. The Senate confirmed the nine other U.N nominations made by Mr. Truman, but did not act on Jessup before adjournment. The U.N. opens its general assembly in Paris Nov. 6. Congress is recessed until Jan. 8.

In a lengthy probe by a subcommittee, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) and Harold E. Stassen, former Republican governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, attacked Jessup as a friend of Communist causes.

The subcommittee voted 3 to 2 against confirming Jessup. He is an ambassador-at-large and a top aide to Secretary of State Acheson

McCarthy, longtime critic of the State Department and of Jessup, told the subcommittee Jessup had in the past followed "every twist and turn of the Communist line."

Jessup replied under oath that he had never knowingly aided communism or any Communist cause, and had long been an enemy of communism.

Loan Erie Man For Govt. Work

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23—(UP)—The Erie Railroad today announced the loan of Assistant Vice President Elmer J. Stubbs to the Defense Transport Administration.

Stubbs, associated with the Erie since 1913, will work under DTA Administrator James K. Knudson as director of the railroad transport division.

ployers are expected to make every reasonable effort to comply with the provisions respecting the new rates. In view of the short time elapsing between the enactment of the law and the first payroll period affected, many employers may not be able to adjust to the new rates on the first pay day affected. While no adjustments will be made in the audit of the withholding returns in such cases, he made it clear that this does not in any manner affect the responsibility of employes to meet their full tax liability as required by law when making their returns for the year 1951.

FIVE-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average near or slightly above normal. Cooler Wednesday with temperatures returning to near normal. Cooler with temperatures falling a little below normal over week-end. Normal maximum 59 north and 64 south. Normal minimum 41. Rainfall totaling ½ to ¾ inch occurring as scattered showers tonight, Wednesday and again Saturday or Sunday.

There may be a time when man depends on the ocean for food aside from fish. Small plants and animals known as "plankton" have nutritive value equal to rye flour and meat, respectively. The main difficulty is harvesting the food. A biologist who studied the matter has said that to meet the normal food energy requirement of one person would require the animal plankton each day from a volume of ocean equal in size of a football field, and about five feet deep.

LOOKS LIKE OLD WAR TIMES. Three old warriors walk light heartedly arm-in-arm at reunion of the British 8th Army "Desert Rats" in London' Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe during World War II and now is supreme commander of Allied powers in Europe, Winston Churchill, Britain's' wartime prime minister who is attempting to lead his Conservative party back into power; Field Marshal Viscount Bernard L Montgomery, commander of the wartime British 8th Army and nero of El Alamein.

The British Election

By Raymond Moley

IT IS risky business to predict elections in print, even when you are on the ground. This time, I am 2,000 miles away. Eighteen months ago, when the previous British election was held, I was on the ground Of the entire colony of American correspondents, only two had doubts about a decisive Labor victory in 1950. The rest guessed that Labor would have a majority of from 60 to 100 And it may be added that the so-called experts in the American Embassy were equally wrong. For Labor squeezed through with only 315 seats, the Conservatives with 298, the Liberals 9, and there were three others. Thus, Labor topped the Conservatives by 17, but with a working majority over all of only six

MOLEY

This time the correspondents give the Conservatives an edge of from 30 to 60. One bet has been made at only 18. An informed Conservative who is presently in this country offers to pay a pound for every one in a Conservative majority of less than 50, against a dollar to him for every one above that number.

Considering the error in the 1950 calculations, there is reason to take present predictions with considerable reservation. But the situation this year differs in a marked degree from that of 1950 The leadership in the labor party has markedly deteriorated. Prime Minister Attlee is older, less vigorous, and less assured in his leadership. Ernest Bevin is dead. Sir Stafford Cripps is in retirement, very seriously ill. As I noted in this column in 1950, the labor party that advocated a brave new world is in the control of timid old men. The Conservatives have more youth and vigor.

THE INEVITABLE revolt in the Labor party, which in 1950 was only a cloud on the horizon, is now dark, imminent, and threatening Aneurin Bevan, England's potential Hitler, is only nominally regular. He unquestionably believes that if Labor loses he will rise to leadership. He is anti-American, pacifist, ready to deal with the Soviet for peace. He would cut armament and spend more money for social services It is a fair guess that he and his followers will not bear down very hard in the election. And as every politician knows, such quiet sabotage is fatal to party success.

The Labor government has shown more incompetence than ever. An economic crisis is still threatening. The Moslem world is exploding in Britain's face, and the lifeline to the East is threatened In such a crisis the British people respond only to strong, vigorous, and eloquent leadership. This is bad for Labor's chances.

Most important of all is the reduction in the number of Liberal candidates. In 1950, they contested 475 constituencies. This time, they have only 109 candidates. In many a constituency where there is no Liberal candidate this year the Liberal vote will cast the balance between Conservative and Labor.

A PROMINENT Conservative member of Parliament estimates that one-third of the Liberal voters who have no candidate will refuse to vote, but that of those who do vote, the Conservatives will get two-thirds. If this ratio holds, the Conservatives will get 1,200,000 of the Liberal votes, and Labor will get 600,000 Scattered through the constituencies, this would swing 25 seats from Labor to Conservative, assuming the same Labor and Conservative vote as in 1950.

Against all this is the tremendous hope of the British people to avoid war Hence, the Labor slogan, "Whose finger do you want on the trigger?" This will have an appeal, for the British may admire Churchill, but they fear his bellicose nature.

Summing it all up, and despite my hesitation to make prophecies in print, it looks like a substantial Conservative victory, perhaps by a majority of 75 or more The newspaper reader, however, must be on guard about what is reported in the paper on the Friday morning after the election For in England the counting of votes stops during the night and resumes after 9 the next day. The earlier returns come from only half the constituencies And of the remainder, the great majority are from "county" or non-urban constituencies. Hence, Labor will be well ahead in the returns on election night. Next day the story will be different.

Temporary Measure

Approve Fire Protection For B. F. Goodrich Plant

An ordinance authorizing the city to furnish temporary fire protection to the B. F. Goodrich Co. at Green Camp was passed unanimously last night at a meeting of City Council.

The ordinance sets up fire protection for a 60-day period while council committees give further study to the question of fire protection in rural areas.

Under terms of the ordinance the Goodrich Company agrees to pay the city $16 50 a month for fire protection plus a fee for any fire calls made. The fee is $75 for the first hour or fraction of an hour spent on fire runs to the plant and $25 an hour for each succeeding hour or fraction of an hour. The rate will be charged from the time the equipment leaves the city limits to the time it returns.

City Protection Retained

The ordinance in no way robs the city of fire protection, Don Quaintance, chairman of the municipal service committee pointed out The city is required to send equipment to the plant only when sufficient equipment is available, he said. The city will not be held liable by the company for damage when no equipment is available.

The ordinance, which will be effective for 60 days, was passed as an emergency measure

During the discussion, a meeting with Marion Township trustees was recommended for the purpose of discussing a possible plan of payment by the township for city fire protection.

At the present time, the city has a fire protection agreement with Marion Township. Under the plan, the township pays a flat rate of $75 for the first hour or fraction and $25 for each following hour or fraction, for city fire protection.

No retainer fee is included in the ordinance and the city receives payment only in case of a fire.

Some members of council feel that since Marion Township residents receive a guarantee of fire protection they should pay for the protection even though no fires occur. Thomas Clark, a member of the municipal service committee, said he doesn't think it fair to give the rural residents the same protection accorded city residents unless they help pay for it. He said the city taxpayers were paying for the equipment while the township residents paid nothing.

charges, trenches will be backwith crusher-run stone and be thoroughly tamped, the brick pavement on Center street will be relaid on a seven-inch concrete base and joints will be filled with asphalt filler, the sidewalk on Leader street will be replaced as it is at present, the other sewer lines, gas lines and water lines will be protected against damage

Another ordinance passed unanimously gives Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrets permission to enter into a contract with the Ohio Bureau of Credits for the collection of delinquent accounts for various city departments

T H. Kenny of the bureau, in a letter to council, made the offer of his business. The collecting agency is to receive payment of 25 percent on accounts over $10 and 50 percent on accounts under $10.

Approve Sewer

Council approved a plan for proceeding with the Uhler avenue sanitary and storm water sewers by a unanimous vote. The new sewers will be installed from a point approximately 400 feet south of Indiana avenue to Ohio avenue. A total of $355 was appropriated from the general fund to cover the city's portion of the cost.

Three additional street lights were approved in another resolution passed unanimously. The Ohio Edison Company was granted permission to install street lights on the second pole east of Grant street on the south side of Adams street, on the first pole south of Van Buren street on the east side of Tyler street and on the first pole west of Maple lane on Chatfield road. The lights will be 100 candle power.

To Advertise Rates

A resolution passed unanimously at the request of City Engineer Cathers, authorized the city clerk to advertise assessment rates for various street and sewer projects These projects included the Uncapher avenue and Darius street sidewalk, the Latourette and York streets sewer, the Marshall street sewer, the Congress street sewer, the Frederick street sewer, the London street bituminous pavement, the Darlington court macadam pavement and the Johnson street bituminous pavement.

Several Marionites attended last night's meeting to keep posted on the smoke abatement squabble. President Pro Tem George Stafford, who presided in the absence of President William Slack, read a written report from Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

Mayor Robinson told council he had visited the main office of the Central Soya Co., at Fort Wayne, Ind., after receiving complaints of noise and dust from people in the area at the McMillen Feed Mills. Officials promised immediate action on the problem. Mayor Robinson was told the company would send engineers here in the near future to eliminate the disturbances.

Officials of the Universal Cooler promised elimination of smoke and soot from their factory also, he reported. The company told him they would convert to use of gas when the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. can grant them the needed permission.

Project Held Up

Mayor Robinson and Councilman Herman Rinehart of the third ward announced that the Henry street curb and gutter project was being held up by lack of bidders. They said bids had been advertised for five weeks but none had been received

Robert Kibbey of the L-K Sandwich Shop at 449 West Center street appeared before council in an effort to remedy a mistake made in a recent improvement project at the shop. A protective curb around the parking lot was constructed on city street property without the knowledge of the owners. Mr. Kibbey said work on the curb, partially constructed, had been stopped and he asked council study the matter. It was referred to the street and alley committee.

Dr. Keever Is Awarded Polio Fellowship

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE — Dr Kenneth W. Keever of nearby Richwood has been awarded a one-year fellowship in physical medicine and rehabilitation by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis

At the end of the fellowship period, Dr. Keever will have had three years clinical study in the polio field His fellowship study will be at one of the centers approved by the Council of Medical Education and Hospitals of the American Medical Association.

Dr Keever decided to specialize in the treatment of Infantile Paralysis several years ago when his daughter, Carla, then in grade school, became ill of the disease She is now at the Warm Springs Ga., hospital and rehabilitation center and Dr. Keever is also now at Warm Springs.

Williams declared that Myers, an investment broker, is director and principal stockholder in several firms, including three companies operating and distributing coin machines His back taxes and penalties for 1942 through 1946, Williams said, were listed at $675,334.16.

This unpaid tax account, Williams said, "has been allowed to gather dust first in the Kansas City collector's office under Dan M. Nee and now on the shelf here in Washington."

The committee yesterday dug further into the affairs of Denis W. Delaney, who was fired last summer as internal revenue collector at Boston and who now is under indictment for bribery.

In questioning Edward H. Foley, undersecretary of the treasury, Committee Counsel Adrian Dewind brought out that some 10 years before Delaney's appointment in 1944, he was on probation as a result of larceny charges and had filed a petition in bankruptcy.

Foley said that although a special agent's report on Delaney's background mentioned both incidents, President Roosevelt was not notified of them in a memorandum from Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., recommending the appointment.

Papers Swing Support To Churchill

Editorial Says "Time for Change" In New Stand

LONDON, Oct 23—(AP)—Two of Britain's most respected newspapers, the Times of London and the Manchester Guardian, swung their support to the Conservative party today in last-minute decisions before Thursday's general election.

Neither is affiliated with one of the two major parties.

In leading editorials they advanced the same reason for their decision—namely, that the Labor party and its Socialist policies no longer will serve the best interests of the country.

The campaign moved into high gear in these last two days before the election. Britons awaited with considerable interest the final major speech — this afternoon — from Winston Churchill, who will again be prime minister if the Conservatives take over the government.

Ring Doorbells

Major personalities in both parties headed for strategic areas to make closing appeals to voters. Both organizations sent teams of doorbell ringers from house to house, seeking support in a large number of districts classed as "doubtful" throughout the country.

The consensus still held that the Tories would win

The Times spoke with a new voice on the pros and cons of the battle Its main editorial was captioned "Time for a Change" Until now the old and influential journal had not taken sides. But today it said:

"If the vote goes against Mr. Attlee and his colleagues on Thursday, it will be because of the conviction that they have nothing further to contribute in this chapter, at least, to the conduct of their country's affairs.

"It is not simply that, in their election statements, bereft now of the old, exhausted remedies of six years ago, they have nothing to offer It is the mounting impression of indecision, delay, miscalculation and error that tells against them."

UNDER FIRE. Lipe Henslee, 48, collector of internal revenue, Nashville, Tenn., said he had planned to resign for reasons of health but changed his mind after Drew Pearson, Washington columnist, charged him with irregularities. The collector said he will "stay on the job until these false charges have been disproved."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

HEARD ON THIS BEAT:

For years, Communist leaders of militarily strategic unions have been summoned to undercover briefing sessions by the Communist party's national leadership and the Comintern's international reps." Soon, for the first time, there will be a dramatic running account of these sessions, replete with time, dates and eye witness accounts, published by the U. S. Senate. Releasing this document will be the unimpeachably pro-labor Senate sub-committee on labor and education, led by men whom legitimate labor chiefs have backed politically for decades.

Victor Riesel

The document, which, once and for all, will prove that Earl Browder, convict Gus Hall and other party leaders ran the left wing unions, will be a summary of the hitherto undisclosed minutes of the C.I.O.'s private trials of the 11 Communist union's which led to their expulsion from that national outfit. It also will prove that unions can clean house and still give the comrades full due process of the law —which the comrades themselves would destroy . . .

NOW JOHN L. LEWIS is trying to organize some of the nation's 175,000 policemen. First such move to set up a cops' union, in competition with the A.F.L.'s and C.I.O.'s efforts to sign up law enforcement personnel, came in Berwyn, Ill. But the city council voted unanimously to refuse to deal with his agents.

It should not be overlooked that if John Lewis accepts the presidency of the still unannounced pro-Communist labor federation organized "secretly" in New York two weeks ago, he will lead almost 1,000,000 members, with combined treasuries of some $75,000,000 and will be entitled to representation on all our government war production boards. If Lewis should go outside his miners to place the new federation's personnel on those critical boards, he'd of necessity have to send in left wingers . . .

WITH SEN. TAFT defying the national labor chiefs to beat him next year, President Truman is reported turning to the union leaders' closest government friend—Labor Secretary Maurie Tobin—for help in the presidential campaign. Mr. Tobin has been asked to replace William Boyle as Democratic national chairman. If Tobin takes it, the labor leaders will work closely with him to swing the 17,000,000 union members to Mr. Truman That's part of what the C.I.O. political leaders told Mr. Truman quietly on Friday . . .

TO MAKE CERTAIN that Egypt's unions don't lead the bitter street warfare against the British there on the edge of the Suez Canal and in the burning Sudan, the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (to which the A.F.L. and C.I.O. belong) is rushing a delegation of international labor chiefs to that front From there, they'll go to Eritrea, the three Somalilands, Ethiopia, Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, Zanzibar, Nyasaland, North and South Rhodesia, Madagascar and Mauritius for two months to make friends for the West Their job will be to keep African labor from being alienated by the Egyptians or the huge Soviet embassy in Addis Ababa . . .

BEST BET for the growing jobless is the aircraft industry, it is learned. By late 1952, these plants will double their employes and hire at a terrific rate from then on as well . . Meanwhile, in other industries, the rate of hiring is at its lowest point in 10 years . . .

THERE MAY NOT BE a steel strike or even a bitter feud between the C.I.O. Steelworkers and the industry if the steel companies get a price raise on specific items before the union begins bargaining for higher wages for its million members. If this raise on special items comes through, the steel industry then plans to ask for a general over-all 5 percent raise after the union contract is signed . . .

After the arrest of William Oatis of The Associated Press the Russians met systematically to suppress the free press outside the Iron Curtain—and have been confiscating A.F.L. publications in Austria although the international treaty guarantees our labor people the right to distribute their literature in Vienna. The other day, Soviet agents not only seized and burned the German edition of the A.F.L.'s Free Trade Union Committee News, but also arrested Edmund and Anni Neumeister, binders of the A.F.L.'s folders which reveal the slave labor camps inside Russia.

The Neumeisters were seized with utter disregard for their three children who would be starving now if the A.F.L. hadn't rushed money to the kids for food and rent. This week, in Washington, the A.F.L. demanded that Dean Acheson win the freedom of the Neumeisters as well as the rights of a free press for them in the alleged free city of Vienna—ruled by a high commission on which the Russians have only one seat . . .

When the C.I.O. opens its convention in New York Nov. 5 it will blast the government's war production program as "wasteful and inefficient . . . failing to meet defense needs and creating unemployment through slow scheduling of contracts and improper allocation of critical materials."

U. S. National Dish

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

AMERICANS are a strange nation of people united by a Democratic constitution — and a red cement called ketchup.

It is doubtful which has done more to hold them together.

Long debates have been held on what is the great American dish. Apple pie? Pumpkin pie? Fried chicken? Turkey with cranberry sauce? The hamburger? The hot dog"

All these have their passionate defenders. But to any one who regularly travels these United States, there can be but one answer. The great American dish is not a dish at all It's a bottle, a bottle containing the flavor in widest favor — ketchup.

Hal Boyle

Ketchup, also known as catchup and catsup, is no more native to these shores than folks named Smith, Jones, Johnson or O'Houlihan. It is an immigrant. It originated in Malay. It was made usually of mushrooms, unripe walnuts and ripe tomatoes, and was used to flavor soups, meat and fish.

ONLY AFTER MIGRATING to America, however, did ketchup come into its own. Here its ingredients are tomato puree, vinegar, spices and sugar

And the scarlet, gooey semi-fluid graduated from a flavoring substance into an all-purpose food. Your true ketchup fan today will eat it through a straw He will douse it on everything from chicken-a-la-king to ice cream, and only an iron tradition keeps some enthusiasts from using it to cool their coffee.

In times of prosperity the poor man uses it to anoint everything on his full plate. In times of hardship ketchup is the poor man's surest fodder. He can go up to a cafeteria counter, ask for a cup of hot water, take the steaming cup to the nearest table, pump some ketchup in it—and he has a bowl of tomato soup for nothing.

"During the last depression," a Florida cafeteria owner told me, "that ketchup soup trick almost caused me to go broke. I think it started with a Damyankee visitor, but he sure did spread the custom fast through the South."

WHAT EXPLAINS the overwhelming popularity of ketchup? Many restaurant owners have a cynical answer.

"Because it's free," they say. "Anything that's free is bound to be popular."

But I don't think that is the real explanation. I think the reason is partly psychological—part of mankind's old quest for certainty in an uncertain world.

A man goes into the average small restaurant and orders meat loaf and hash-browned potatoes. When his loaded plate is brought, he looks uneasily at it. Doubt surges above his hunger. What is in that mysterious mess before him? Where did it come from? What is in it? He takes a tentative taste, and his doubt immediately deepens. Has the cook played a halloween trick on him?

He sighs, reaches for the ketchup bottle, and covers the plate from edge to edge. He no longer can see what lies beneath the new red swamp he has created. And no matter what heady taste of glue the menu times had before, it is drowned in the all-enveloping flavor of ketchup, a flavor as changeless as the U. S. Bill of Rights.

NO, AMERICANS don't turn to ketchup merely because it is free. They reach for it because it is the constant friend of people who must eat out in strange places, a sentinel as faithful to them as a lighthouse is to ships lost at sea. Some may not actually like it; but they know for sure what it is.

The biggest problem is how to thump it out of the bottle without getting it on your necktie. But that can easily be solved.

Simply wear a bowtie. Then you get it on your shirt, instead of your necktie. And if you're so finicky that even that bothers you, well—wear a red shirt.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Common Condition Too Often Neglected

Varicose veins of the rectum are known as piles or hemorrhoids. This condition is very common, and is one which is all too likely to be neglected

One reason for this is that piles may not cause any symptoms at all. On the other hand, modesty prevents many from seeking medical advice, even when pain and bleeding are frequent. When the latter symptom occurs, it should never be taken for granted that the cause is piles; other causes should not be ruled out even though piles are present.

Common Causes

Piles may be due to various causes, some of the most common being habitual straining in moving the bowels, frequent heavy lifting, pregnancy, cirrhosis of the liver, or tumors of the abdomen causing pressure on the veins.

There are two types of piles, known as internal and external, depending upon how near they lie to the opening of the rectum.

External piles become troublesome only if a clotting of the blood occurs in the veins. Then they may become excruciatingly painful. Usually, the only treatment for this type is removal by surgery.

The internal type of piles can be relieved by applying heat in the form of warm baths, and the use of soothing ointments to the area. This type is very often complicated by bleeding, infections, ulcerations, and the cutting off of the blood supply.

When this condition exists, all straining or any factor which causes strain should be eliminated. Many good results have been obtained with the injection treatment of piles, but certain cases do not respond to this form of treatment and surgery may be necessary.

Questions and Answers

J. M.: What causes dry skin and is there any cure for it?

Answer. Dry skin may be due to disturbances in the glands of internal secretion, such as lack of thyroid secretion. There may be other symptoms, such as dryness of the hair, lack of energy, and excessive gain in weight

In cases of naturally dry skin, there does not seem to be much that can be done outside of applying a bland ointment, such as cold cream, to the skin once a day.

Youths Held After Stolen Car Crashes In Morrow County

Two youths from Indiana were apprehended by state highway patrolmen and the Morrow County sheriff this morning in a field about a mile from a car which they had wrecked and deserted on a Morrow County road about three miles south of Cardington.

The patrol sent three cars to search the area after receiving a phone call at 7:15 a.m. informing them that a damaged car with Indiana license plates had been found on the county road.

The boys, both about 15 years old, are being held in Morrow County jail for questioning.

A check with Indiana law authorities disclosed that the vehicle had been stolen in Terre Haute, pInd., yesterday at 5:30 p. m.

2,656 Attend Union Hospital Progress Day

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE—A total of 2,658 persons took advantage of the progress showing at Union County Memorial Hospital to look over the building and grounds, Saturday and Sunday. The hospital's open house drew people from every corner of Union County, and many from a considerable distance. There were 824 visitors on Saturday and 1,823 on Sunday.

The visitors were conducted on their tour through the hospital by 80 hostesses, representing every community in the county. The hostesses were stationed at 25 points throughout the building to explain the features of the hospital.

Prior to the showing Sunday, a flag raising and presentation ceremony was held on the grounds. The American Flag was presented to the Hospital by Paul Wallace for Union Post 79 of the American Legion. It was accepted for the hospital by Paul Williams.

Speaker for the occasion was Tom Campbell, Sr., of Mt. Gilead, commander of the Legion's 6th Ohio district. He was introduced by Mr. Wallace, commander of Union Post. Prayer and benediction were given by the Rev. Rodger B. Sillars of the Marysville Presbyterian Church.

Raising the flag were Gale W. Baldwin and Albert Fensel, assisted by Charles Eddy, all members of Union Post. Bugler was Clifford Heimlich. The Legion committee in charge of arranging the flag presentation consisted of Frank R. Greeneisen, Charles Eddy and Eugene Bausch.

As visitors entered the hospital, they were greeted by John G. Wolff, chairman, and Sturgis Cheney of Richwood, member, of the hospital construction board of trustees. They were in the lobby to extend official welcome of the board to the visitors.

Inside the hospital, people followed a marked route from one point to another, and at each place hostesses were stationed to explain the hospital features. Todd Hoopes, secretary of the Hospital's Operating Board of Trustees helped in many capacities during the two-day event. Several members of the American Legion Auxiliary Highway Patrol unit directed traffic on the grounds.

Mrs. Robert J. MacIvor, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the Union County Hospital Association was general chairman of the Progress Showing event. She was assisted by the other women trustees, Mrs. Walter Robinson of Pharisburg, and Mrs. Harold Bishop of Milford Center. Mrs. Arthur W. Galloway was chairman of the guides and hostesses.

In charge of publicity for the event was a committee consisting of Mrs. Joseph Lentz, chairman; Mrs. Paul Howey and Mrs. Richard Fox of Marysville; Mrs. R. J. Langstaff of Richwood, and Mrs. B. E. Ingmire of Plain City.

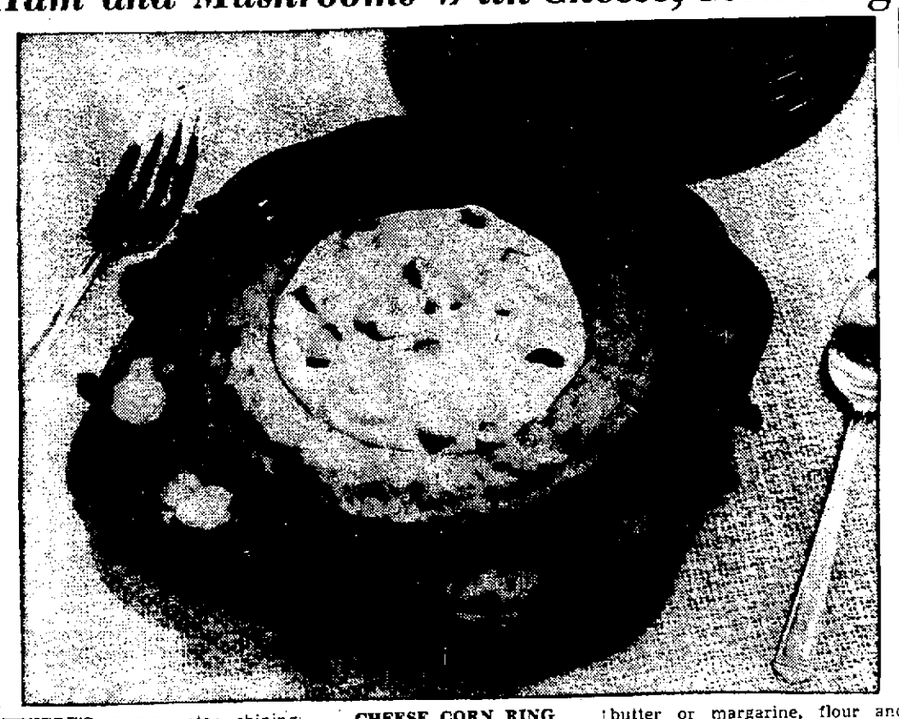
Ham and Mushrooms With Cheese, Corn Ring



THERE'S a new star shining in your food horizon that's certain to bring a gleam to the family's eyes. It's a cheese corn ring with creamed ham and mushrooms and it's a dish that will give light to both menu-planning and budget problems: it's an epicurean delight that can't be eclipsed for thriftiness!

CHEESE CORN RING

2 T butter or margarine
2 T flour
¾ cup milk
2 cups cream style corn
2 T chopped onion
1 pimento, chopped
½ lb. pasteurized process American cheese, shredded
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
Salt, pepper
4 eggs, beaten

Make a cream sauce with the butter or margarine, flour and milk. Add the corn, onion, pimento, cheese, crumbs and seasonings to taste. Add the eggs and mix well. Thoroughly grease a quart ring mold. Pour in the corn mixture, and bake in a moderate oven, 350 F., 1 hour or until firm. Unmold and fill the center with creamed ham and mushrooms.

Creamed Ham and Mushrooms: Make a cream sauce with 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, and ½ cup juice from mushrooms. When thickened and smooth, add 2 cups diced cooked ham, and 1 4-oz. can sliced mushrooms, and heat before serving.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

I could not see any hope in Mildred Grey's beautiful eyes as I bade her pay attention to my father's message, but I could see that her face was less ravaged, and that some of the tension had gone out of her. She nodded a quick assent—I was giving her no chance for an oral answer—and squared her shoulders as though she were getting ready for either a boon or a blow.

"My father applauded your courage in planning your sacrifice," I began. "Then he said: 'I shall be at your suite tomorrow morning, and I shall have a full and satisfactory answer to the problem. Will you please pass that assurance along tonight? I do not wish anyone kept awake by worry.'"

Her face was puzzled. Then the lines smoothed out a bit more.

"It sounds wonderful!" she breathed. "But I do not see—Have—have you any idea what he means?"

I debated for an instant with myself, then decided to tell her the truth.

"Yes, I have a very good idea of what he means," I told her, "because I have watched him in problems somewhat similar. And I think my husband also is pretty sure of the answer. But we agreed not to exchange ideas on the subject, and you see, of course, that I could not ethically tell you my thought on the matter. But I can tell you that if my ideas are correct—and I'd wager a good deal that they are—you need have no more worry about anything, except, Bill's going to war. I want you to promise only one thing; that you will put this problem aside and think no more about it until after you have seen my father tomorrow morning."

Her face brightened unbelievably, and for the first time, I saw hope in her eyes.

"I'll promise that gladly," she declared. Then the shadows came into her face again, and she put a tense question to me.

"May I tell Bill what you have told me?" she asked. "I know that he is worried, because he knows my status at college. But I have not told him my plan for leaving college."

"Don't tell him that last thing!" I adjured her. "It would worry him sick, and the chances are all against your having to leave college. But I give you full permission to tell him that you advised me of what your problem would be if you wore that expensive outfit even as far away as New Haven; that I consulted my father, who assured me he could solve the problem, and that I am certain, guessing his meaning, that you will have no more worry."

Her sigh of relief came from the soles of her shoes.

"I will carry out your instructions exactly," she said. "You can not imagine how you have cheered me. Please forgive me for acting so foolishly!"

I had put her back in her chair, and as she finished I went over to her, and drew her to her feet.

"That's my own dear girl!" I said, crushing her hands in mine. "Now, suppose we go back to the others."

I slipped my hand under her elbow, then gave her a parting caution before I opened the door.

"Give Bill your message at once," I said. "I'll see that you have a chance to speak to him. He'll need reassurance when I begin to talk about my father's plans for jewels and orchids."

Firemen Find Only "Heap Big Smoke"

"Heap big smoke, but no fire" was the case when firemen from the Central Station were called yesterday at 11:18 a.m. to the home of Mrs. Katherine Emerson at 142 Park boulevard.

According to Fire Chief Owen Sifritt, Mrs. Emerson had been toasting bread in the kitchen and then went into the living room. She forgot the bread until a while later when, returning to the kitchen, she was unable to enter because of the great amount of smoke. She ran outside and the alarm was turned in by neighbors who heard her shouting and saw smoke coming from the house.

"When we got there, we found only burnt bread," said Chief Sifritt. He reported very slight damage to the kitchen.

MARION MOTHER LOST 45 LBS. WITH RENNEL

"Rennel has done wonders for me," writes Mrs. Roy Stapleton, 378 Avondale Ave., Marion, Ohio. "Since taking Rennel I have lost 45 lbs. in a little over four months. My dress size has changed from 48 to 20. I am 27 years of age, and the mother of four children. That means a lot of walking to watch the children, which was tedious work. But not any more, for I am lighter on my feet and feel fine."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Your spinal column is vital It cannot be twisted or forced out of line for periods of time without damaging effect to your health and well-being You cannot control your sleeping posture without the assistance of the proper mattress.

THIS CAUSES BACK-ACHES!

Notice how the spinal column is twisted on a soft sagging mattress! A sagging mattress causes curvature of the spine because of improper support of the heavier parts of the body.

BEDBOARD IS NO ANSWER!

Using a bedboard is like putting your mattress on the floor. The mattress still sags — in fact, it completely collapses under the heaviest portions of the body because the bedboard prevents the supporting action of the box spring.

SEALY POSTUREPEDIC GIVES RELIEF!

Lions Club Hears Talk By Attorney

Charlton Myers Tells of Profession At Luncheon Meeting

Charlton Myers, a Marion attorney and a Lions Club member, presented the program at the Lions Club meeting Monday noon at Hotel Harding, giving a talk concerning his profession He discussed the various kinds of cases lawyers are called on to handle and the unusual circumstances with which persons in the law business sometimes are confronted

A past president of the Marion Lions Club, Mr Myers was born at Carrothers, O, attended schools at Bucyrus, and is a graduate of Miami University and the Ohio Northern University Law School Prior to coming to Marion in 1942 at which time he became associated with Walter D Moore, Mr Myers served two terms as probate judge in Greenfield, O

Mr Myers said lawyers have been present at most of the great events which have gone down in history Of the 55 delegates to the constitutional convention, he explained, 33 were lawyers. He said, "Lawyers have been the custodians of human rights"

Divorce Cases

Speaking of divorce cases, Mr Myers told his fellow Lions members that a good proportion of cases in the practice of a lawyer are concerned with divorce He explained that with new laws set up this year, a person seeking a divorce must be a resident of the same county for 90 days The law also now requires, he added, that an independent investigation be made to determine the matter of the custody of the children when there are children under 14 years of age in the family Custody problems, he explained, present the greatest number of problems in divorces Generally speaking, he added, mothers always want to keep the children

Mr Myers explained that most things which come before a lawyer are held as a matter of confidence.

Mr Myers told his audience that it is generally believed that criminal practice is important in the practice of law, but it is a very minor element in Marion law practice

Other Phases of Work

Other phases of a lawyer's work which Mr Myers discussed included trials, checking of jury lists, talking to witnesses, such casualty cases, and settling estates

Mr Myers pointed out he has found the legal profession to be one of great interest due to the fact a lawyer deals with people of all stations in life and of all ages

Richard Probst, president, presided for the meeting during which the sum of $25 was voted to the Go To Church campaign for the month of Novemper Plans also were discussed for a Ladies Night Christmas party.

Mrs Frances Wanda, representing the Marion League of Women Voters, was present and spoke briefly to the members regarding the bulletin being distributed by the League, which gives names and background of candidates for election in November.

Robert Bush announced plans for a quiz program to be held at the next meeting Robert Rice was a guest of the club.

Test Slot Case Is Heard By Hardin Judge

Tudor Directs Both Sides To File Briefs

URBANA, O, Oct 23—(AP)—The first court test case of Ohio's new slot machine law was taken under advisement following a brief hearing yesterday before Common Pleas Judge Arthur D Tudor

Judge Tudor, Hardin County jurist hearing the case here on assignment, ordered attorneys to file briefs in the case He set no date for filing

He took the action after one witness had testified That witness was Albert Dodson of the United Amusement Co of Urbana, who is asking a permanent injunction restraining officers from enforcing the new slot machine law Dodson has admitted ownership of $10,000 worth of slots

The law makes it a felony to possess own or transport slot machines in Ohio The court has granted Dodson a temporary injunction, and Ohio Attorney General C William O'Neill filed a motion with the court to dismiss Dodson's request for a permanent injunction

The hearing yesterday was on that motion

Points Agreed Upon

In an agreement reached a week ago, the court, the attorney general's staff and Dodson's attorneys agreed that the case be settled on two issues

(1) Whether Ohio's General Assembly has police powers to regulate slot machines, and (2) whether slot machines have value as property since the law went into effect Sept 18

Both his own attorneys and members of the attorney general's staff questioned Dodson about the slot machines he admits owning Under cross-examination, he declined to tell where they were located on grounds that would incriminate him He said all of them were in Champaign County

Admits Ownership

He testified he owned 50 slot machines and had purchased 16 of them from three Columbus firms before the slot machine law went into effect

Asked what use was made of the machines Dodson replied he rented some to several organizations but did not say how they were used He said some had been resold to private individuals

The court said whichever side files its brief first, the other will be given 10 days in which to reply He gave no indication when a decision might be expected in the case

At the first meeting a week ago, he said he expected the case to reach the Ohio Supreme Court for settlement of the two issues involved

Big Trucks Involved In 3 Accidents

Tractor and semi-trailer truck outfits were involved in three of four highway accidents which occurred last night and early today

Thurman Burton, 27, of Cincinnati, with his wife and two children, abandoned their parked car just before it was hit and demolished by a truck and semi-trailer driven by Wayne Edward Waller, 22, of Akron on Route 42 a mile north of Johnsville at 10 30 p m last night

Burton had stopped the car to repair the lights, which had gone out The truck driver was unable to see the car and crashed into the rear of it Minor damage to the front end of the truck was reported

Milford Logan 44, of West Portsmouth, O, driver of a tractor and semi-trailer, told patrolmen that he had been blinded by a spotlight beam thrown into his face by a car which he met on a curve on Route 42, a mile north of Mt Gilead at 10 p m.

He reported that he whipped back and forth across the road until the trailer began to jackknife and hit a telephone pole The pole was knocked down and several side boards knocked off the trailer Logan was not hurt

A tractor and semi-trailer driven by Suguard Samdal, 44, of Dayton went off the road and struck and broke a power pole on Route 4, south of the intersection of Route 47, today at 1 55 a m The front end of the truck was extensively damaged

Robert E Black, 18, of Galion, failed to negotiate a turn and crashed his car into a guard rail on Route 19, two miles west of Galion at 12 45 this morning The car was demolished

Black was released after treatment at Bucyrus City Hospital for lacerations of the right hand and a nosebleed

Taft

Earlier at a news conference in which he expressed his views on Sen McCarthy (R-Wis), Taft said he didn't think 'McCarthyism" will be a significant issue in the 1952 presidential campaign.

"I don't think one who overstates his case helps his own case," Taft commented "There are certain points on which I wouldn't agree with the senator (McCarthy) . . . However, Senator McCarthy brought attention to the wide extent of communism in government . . "

McCarthy, frequently has charged that Communists influence the Truman Administration, especially in the State Department

McCarthy, in Weyauwega, Wis, last night, told a reporter 'I don't believe Bob made the statement that I overstated my case The greatest understatement I ever made was in regard to which Communists have shaped our suicidal foreign policy

"I don't think Taft would join the left wing camp followers in opposing my Communist fight ."

Link Barkley Aid With RFC

WASHINGTON, Oct 23—(AP)—Senate investigators made plans today to question Vice President Barkley's secretary and a Senate committee employe about the employe's statement they interceded in behalf of government loan applicants

"We are going to talk to both of them as soon as it can be arranged' said Francis D Flanagan, chief counsel to the Senate's permanent investigations subcommittee

Senator Hoey (D-NC) the subcommittee chairman, ordered a preliminary inquiry yesterday at the request of Senator Sparkman (D-Ala), who heads the Senate small business committee

Youth Arrested Here Faces Auto Theft Charge

A 14-year-old Lexington boy is awaiting a hearing in Crawford County Juvenile Court after being picked up over the weekend by Marion police.

The youth has admitted a burglary at Galion and has been implicated in the theft of an auto from a parking place on Galion's streets

The youth has been accused of taking a sedan owned by James W. Klehm of Galion and driving it here. The car also was recovered by local police.

The boy confessed when he was brought to the Galion police department that he had entered an unlocked door at the home of Mrs. Clyde Spurck of Galion Friday and took two watches valued at $20 and $25 and about $15 in cash from a piggy bank.

On Saturday, the boy's mother reported to Galion police that her boy had been missing from home since Thursday. Later, upon the theory that he might be visiting relatives in Marion, he was located there.

FAMILIAR CRY. Local O.S.U. followers who journeyed to Columbus to see the Bucks take a decisive licking from an aroused Indiana eleven report Broad and High streets were emitting sounds close to the old cry of wolves snapping at the coattail of a losing football coach.

They go on to say these snarls might even turn to the unmistakable wolf call should the Bucks lose to visiting Iowa this weekend.

There was plenty of talk about the futility of the Woody Hayes team in downtown Marion Sunday and yesterday since the game was televised and many here saw the team for the first time by the simple expedience of turning the knobs on their TV sets. None were complimentary, but few called for an ousting of Hayes.

Elsewhere around the state, reporters covering the game were less kind toward the rotund Hayes. And it was significant to note that they did not cover up for the coach in this one like they did in the loss to M.S.C. It was accurate reporting, but still critical and somewhat editorializing.

POINTS OF INTEREST. Personally we don't aim to get into this thing. Football coaches are hired and fired by university officials. That's the way it should be. But we would like to point out some factors that must be studied in judging Hayes.

1. First he took a single wing backfield in Tony Curcillo, Vic Janowicz, Walter Klevay, and Jack Wagner and installed the overrated T-formation. Wes Fesler had used the T sparingly, but relied mostly on the power play of the single wing. Such changes cannot be made with any spectacular success in one season.

2. O.S.U. was bound to be down mentally after being "up" three weeks in a row against such powerhouses as S.M.U., Michigan State and Wisconsin.

3 Indiana was fired up to win for their coach, Clyde Smith, who was definitely on the spot after losing to Notre Dame and Michigan by big scores.

4. The Bucks are undoubtedly weaker at fullback than any other team in the Big Ten.

5 T-formation football revolves around the quarterback. It rises and falls on his performance. Tony Curcillo plays the position no better than any first-year man at that spot.

6. There is the impression that the alumni has pampered the players so much that it is difficult to imagine getting knocked down on Saturday when you have been treated as a chosen citizen all week.

TAKES TIME. Those are a few factors that must be considered in judging O.S.U.'s merits as a football team. Athletic Director Dick Larkins says Hayes has a five-year contract and will be around for a long time.

And there is a strong suspicion that those "wolves" will turn out to be really lambs in wolves' clothing should the Bucks rise up to knock over Iowa, Illinois, Northwestern, Michigan and others in the remaining games.

EARLY FINISH

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23—(AP)—Wally Unsold, 167, of Steubenville, O., stopped Nate Smith, 170, of Pittsburgh, at 2:30 of the second round in a slated four-round battle last night. A crowd of 987 paid a net of $1,602.

Massillon Still Tops After Easy Victory

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—(AP)—Unless someone does something about it in a hurry, Massillon's three-time Ohio high school football champs will soon be wrapping up their fourth consecutive title.

The terrific Tigers are graduatlly pulling away from the pack in the weekly Associated Press poll, and 20 to 32 voters named the Stark County powerhouse of Coach Chuck Mather the No. 1 team today.

Massillon whopped a pretty good Mansfield team 54 to 0 Friday night, while Springfield's surprising Wildcats upset second-place Hamilton 8-7 with a last quarter safety to send the Tigers zooming far in front.

Big Gain

Last week the Tigers were only 38 points ahead of Hamilton, which had eight first place votes. Today Massillon has an 88-point edge over second-place Steubenville which rammed into the runner-up spot although no one named the Big Red as first choice.

Middletown, wrecked 36-6 by Lima Central, and Fremont Ross, held to a 13-13 tie by Columbus East, fell out of the Big Ten. Their places were taken by Warren, which jumped from 13th to ninth with a 40-6 win over Alliance, and Zanesville, which bopped Lancaster, 38-0, for its sixth in a row. Zanesville, knotted for 23rd place last week, leaped all the way to seventh.

Warren, beaten twice in six starts, gets its chance to halt Massillon this week and they're drawing names out of the hat to see who gets tickets for the fray, so great is the demand. The Warren stands hold 10,000, but more than 12,000 will see the contest. Six foes have averaged only 50 yards rushing against the Panthers.

Leading Scorers

This and That: Hubert Bobo of Chauncey-Dover scored on runs of 26, 55, 66, 44, 40 and 34 yards, then booted six conversions against the Plains to run his state-pacing scoring total to 180 for six games . . . . Dick Basich of Delta scored eight touchdowns (8, that is) against Holland for the runner-up spot at 150 . . . . Other point-getters de luxe are Bill Henthorne of Cardington with 145, Barney Gladieux of Toledo Clay with 117, and Ed Applegate of Perrysville with 114. (Doug Goodsell of Upper Arlington, now an O.S.U. halfback, led last year with 199).

Sandusky's Ted Schwanger made 152 yard in 19 carries, passed for three touchdowns and ran 33 for another as the Blue Streaks whipped Lorain, 41-25 . .. Eddie Mack went 78, 93, 85 and 70 yards for scores as New London blasted previously unbeaten Huron, 52-12.

Penalties nullified two Hamilton touchdowns in the 7-8 loss to Springfield . . . The platoon system means nothing to Jim Arnold, veteran Marion Harding tackle, for he's missed only one play in six games . . . And Line-Backer Tats Taylor has been out only two minutes . . . Cardington has won 15 straight.

How Ohio's newspaper and radio sports editors rate the state's high school football teams this week: (first place votes in parentheses, points on 10-9-8-etc. basis)

Bishops Try For 5th Win

DELAWARE, O., Oct 24—Ohio Wesleyan's Battling Bishops, dubbed the bounce-back Bishops after two successive last-quarter victories, travel to Oberlin Saturday in quest of their fifth straight win of the year against one loss.

Oberlin and O.W.U. are undefeated in Ohio Conference play The Yoemen with a 3-1 mark for the season dropped Wittenberg in its only other league start, while the Bishops have quelled Otterbein and Denison.

Coach Glenn Fraser is planning some backfield changes with the only apparent fixture among the starters being Quarterback Hayden Buckley. Fullback John Blair, who suffered a head injury against Denison, will be used chiefly in his valuable line-backing job to allow the switching of Left Half Dwight McMahan to the offensive fullback slot.

Jack Allen, the Poland, O., senior who has been so outstanding as a safety man that the coaches declined to use him offensively, will get a crack at 60-minute duty against Oberlin. He'll open at left half.

The right half job will go to one of three candidates, Stan Atma, Joe Slone or Jim Boggs.

Last week's thriller against Denison was accomplished by the aerial duo of Buckley, the passer, and Dale Bruce, the receiver. "Buck" paces the O.W.U. offense with 532 total yards, 523 of them coming overhead. He has pitched five TD passes, all to End Bruce who has caught 22 passes for 492 yards.

U.S.C. Not Dirty—Just Tough

California Beaten Fair And Square, Says Pappy

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23—(AP)—It's getting so the Southern California Trojans can't win a football game without being accused of skulduggery and malice aforethought.

Whatever tactics were employed on the field of bloodshed in last Saturday's 21-14 upset over California, however, Coach Pappy Waldorf now agrees that U.S.C. beat his Bears fair and square.

California rooters had raised cries of outrage over what they termed a U.S.C. plot to maim Cal's star fullback, Johnny Olszewski.

The week before, it had been Oregon State rooters who were complaining over the way U.S.C. won. And the week before that, Washington had come in with a beef similar to California's.

"I am getting sick and tired of the things that seem to be said after every one of our games," fumed Trojan Coach Jess Hill yesterday before the Southern California football writers meeting

"We have no alibis, no complaints, and no criticism of the officiating," Coach Waldorf told the northern California writers. He said he could find no evidence of premeditated rough play.

Thus in the quieting aftermath of the weekend's number one unhorsing, the consensus seemed to be this:

Unaware of Brute Strength

Trojan linebacker Pat Cannamela is as innocent of any wrongdoing as a woodland nymph; he merely is unaware of his own brute strength; and the best way to keep from being killed by him is to keep to one side.

It was Cannamela's tackle that put Olszewski out of business most of the afternoon and, probably, for two weeks more as well.

Coach Hill laid an affectionate hand on Cannamela's massive shoulder and introduced him and quarterback Dean Schneider as "two of the finest co-captains that can be found in football."

Hill described the felling of Olszewski as "one of the finest, cleanest tackles I have even seen."

"The movies show that Cannamela slashed into tackle Olszewski from the side," concurred Waldorf in San Francisco. "The pictures show no deliberate intention to twist Olszewski's leg."

The California headman complimented U.S.C. as "one of the best teams I have seen in some years," adding:

"Its defensive unit is a sturdy one. On the subject of whether U.S.C. used illegal tactics, I can say we have no feelings there was any organized effort to put key California men out of commission."

That would appear to close the matter except for one factor. The Trojans have five more games on their schedule, the most imminent being Texas Christian here next Saturday.

That more rhubarbs may be forthcoming is indicated by Hill's declaration that he has no intention of changing U.S.C.'s style of play. He said he hopes his boys "play just as rough the rest of the season."

23 Completions Only Fair For Columbia Back

Fails To Win Over Pennsylvania Despite Record

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—Last Saturday Columbia's Mitch Price threw 40 passes against Penn and completed 23 for 271 yards. Each figure set a Columbia record, wiping out the marks established by such guys as Sid Luckman, Paul Governali and Gene Rossides . . . George Munger, the Penn coach, tabbed it as the best passing exhibition ever seen at Franklin Field . . . So what did Lou Little say? "Price had a bad day. He wasn't passing well." . . . Columbia Lou, deeply disappointed at being unable to whip his alma mater, didn't mean this as a rap at Price. He just pointed out that Mitch over-threw his receivers a couple of times when it really hurt . . . "I don't say he'll complete more passes, but he will throw a lot better," Lou insisted. . . . Looks like Syracuse and Fordham both will use the busted wing formation in their game Saturday. Fordham's Ed Danowski complains of a plague of broken noses. Syracuse has lost two quarterbacks because of broken legs and now even the wrestling team has found it catching. On the first day of practice one of the best Syracuse matmen, Lou Tschirhart, came up with a cracked gam.

Steven Owen, Giants. "We have a breather this week. We just have to show up in Cleveland and the Browns will roll over—over our goal line"

Biggie Munn, Michigan State (after reading Blair Cherry's article on "why I quit football"): "I got everything Cherry had, except a rich brother."

* * *

The question about the Red Sox now seems to be: "What can Lou Boudreau do that Steve O'Neill couldn't with the material at hand?" . . . Or does Lou's appointment as manager mean there'll be a real shakeup? . . . Bob Celeri has played only 61½ minutes at quarterback for the football Yanks and they've scored 45 points under his direction . . . Hearing that the Missouri footballers had foresworn shaving until they won a game, the Iowa State lads pledged that they'd give up all their autographed pictures of Roy Rogers and the Lone Ranger if they lost to Missouri.

Larkins Denies Hayes Signed Five-Year Pact

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—(UP)—Richard Larkins, Ohio State athletic director, denied last night that Buckeye Football Coach Woody Hayes has a five-year contract.

"I was surprised to see that in the papers," Larkins said. "My quotes were twisted quite a bit."

Larkins said that Ohio State has a "gentlemen's agreement" with Hayes for five years but pointed out that Ohio law forbids the signing of contracts for more than one year.

At the time Hayes was signed, Larkins said, it was announced that there was an agreement in Hayes' contract which would renew it each year for five years.

Wolfe, Girls Head Grapple Card

Joe Wolfe will defend his junior American heavyweight crown against Jules LaRance in the main event of the Thursday night wrestling card, Promoter Les Fishbaugh announced today.

The card will be opened with two one-fall girls' matches. Mars Bennett will meet Terry Majors in the 8:30 opener while Donna Marie Dieckman will be matched against Carl Carota in the second. The winners of these two matches will meet the losers in a 60-minute tag team match.

Tickets for the card are on sale at Markert and Lewis or may be purchased Thursday night at the gate.

FACE POINT-FIXING CHARGES. Nervous teammates Alex Groza (right), and Ralph Beard, former All-American basketball stars from the University of Kentucky, waive extradition in Chicago's felony court before leaving for New York to appear before a grand jury on point-fixing charges. Both players, suspended by the National Basketball Association, have admitted taking bribes up to $500 each to keep points down in a Kentucky-Loyola National Invitation game in 1949.

Must Sell Pro Team

Groza, Beard Arraigned Today on Bribe Charge

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—Three former University of Kentucky basketball stars, two of them among the greatest ever developed in the Blue Grass country, were to be arraigned today on charges of accepting bribes to fix an intercollegiate game.

The players involved in the latest chapter of the basketball scandals are former All-Americas Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, members of Kentucky's national collegiate champions of 1948 and 1949, and Dale Barnstable, captain of the 1949-50 team.

Groza, six-foot seven-inch center, and Beard, pint-sized sharp shooting guard, are part owners and members of the Indianapolis Olympians of the National Basketball Association. Barnstable is a Louisville high school coach.

Received $500

They are charged with taking $500 each for shaving points in the March 14, 1949 National Invitation Tournament game with Loyola of Chicago at Madison Square Garden. Loyola won the game, 67-56.

Groza and Beard were returned here from Chicago by Assistant District Attorney A. G. O'Connor last night, a few hours after the National Basketball Association ordered the two players to dispose of all their stock in the Olympians within a month. President Maurice Podoloff of the N.B.A. previously had suspended them for life from playing in the pro league.

Barnstable has been here since Saturday night.

Before leaving Chicago, where Groza and Beard waived extradition, O'Connor said "you may assume that other schools probably are involved."

O'Connor's comment came when he was asked about a printed report that as many as seven more schools were to be quizzed in the point-rigging that already has involved seven schools and more than 30 players.

In addition to the three Kentuckians, players from Bradley, Toledo, City College of New York, Manhattan, Long Island University and New York University have become enmeshed in the gambling scandal.

O'Connor said 14 players already have been convicted in the gambler-conceived plot to big points.

Groza, Beard and Barnstable face prison sentences of one to three years if convicted of conspiracy, a misdemeanor. If convicted of bribery, a felony, the law calls for a prison sentence up to five years for each count.

Neither Beard nor Groza had much to say on their arrival in New York.

"I don't know what to say," was Groza's reply to reporters.

But in Chicago Beard told newsmen it might be a good idea if the scandal-hit players organized a playing tour in foreign countries. He added:

"For most of us basketball is our only means of livelihood. We shouldn't be punished forever."

HUNGARY STRONG MAN

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 23—(AP)—Mickey Hargitay, a 24-year-old displaced person from Hungary, is the new "Mr. Tri-States," a title given in the A.A.U. weight lifting contest for Indiana, Illinois and Ohio contestants. Hargitay, who now lives in Indianapolis, won the "Mr. Indiana" title last May. He fled Hungary in 1947.

Eight Clubs Have Men On All-Star Team

Baseball Writers Pick 4 From A.L., 6 From National

NEW YORK, Oct 23—(AP)—A power-packed outfield, a tight inner defense and crafty pitching backed by that rare diamond commodity—a hard-hitting catcher—make up the 1951 Associated Press all-star baseball team.

Eight of the 16 big league clubs are represented on the sixth annual A.P. dream team, chosen yesterday by 186 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The all-star team:

First base—Ferris Fain, Athletics.

Second base—Jackie Robinson, Dodgers.

Third base—George Kell, Tigers.

Shortstop — Phil Rizzuto, Yankees.

Centerfield—Stan Musial, Cardinals.

Catcher — Roy Campanella, Dodgers

Lefthanded pitcher — Preacher Roe, Dodgers.

Righthanded pitcher—Sal Maghe, Giants

The outfield of Williams, Kiner and Musial—who combined received $225,000 this year for their services—smacked 104 home runs and drove across 343 runs.

Defensively, the infield of Fain, Robinson, Kell and Rizzuto rates as one of the best in recent years

Campanella, a candidate for the National League's most valuable player award, hit 325—something of an oddity for current-day catchers. The pitchers, Roe and Maglie, won 45 games between them while losing only nine—a snappy .833 percentage. Roe compiled a 22-3 record, and twice won 10 in a row for the Dodgers. Maglie with 23 wins and six losser, was an overpowering pitcher. The strong righthander struck out 145 batters and walked only 83.

"Because Of You" . . .

we're doing very well indeed. You've proved how big a hit our food has made with you just by coming back night after night. And if "Because of You" is one of your favorite hit songs, you'll love the Eddie Beach interpretation at the organ.

Get the best where they serve the best. Chops, Steaks, Italian Foods and Fresh Seafoods . . . Beer • Wine • Mixed Drinks.

Janowicz Out Against Iowa; Changes Made

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23—(AP)—All-America Halfback Vic Janowicz probably won't play for Ohio State against Iowa this Saturday.

Buckeye team physican Dr. Richard Patton, advised Coach Woody Hayes yesterday against using the Elyria halfback who has a rib injury.

Janowicz aggravated his injury in the 32-10 Indiana loss last weekend. Dr. Patton said "he should miss at least one game to avoid any chance of a permanent injury."

Hayes probably will use Bernie Skvarka, a junior, in Janowicz position.

Hayes also announced some other changes in the lineup this weekend. He has promoted Freshman Bob Watkins of New Bedford, Mass., to the varsity as fullback.

Carroll Smith, Sebring senior, will replace Louis Fischer at guard on defense and Dick Thomas, a junior from Martins Ferry, will move in as defensive right end.

Hayes said Tony Curcillo still is his best quarterback, but he believes Bill Wilks, a junior from Hamilton, is a better passer.

The coach said freshman backs Johnny Borton of Alliance and Doug Goodsell of Upper Arlington and Freshman Tackle Dick Schiller of Bellaire will see more action.

Hayes shuddered as he looked forward to the Iowa game.

"This stacks up as a rough one, too," he said.

Seeks Backing To Kill Two-Platoon System

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23—(AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference is drumming up votes for a drive to outlaw the two-platoon system in football.

Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt said yesterday that he has sent letters to the presidents of many National Collegiate Athletic Association schools. The letters seek support for the campaign at the N.C.A.A. meeting in Cincinnati Jan. 10-12. The P.C.C. also wants to abolish spring training.

BROWNIE TO REST

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23—(AP)—A recurring knee injury has caused the Cleveland Browns to take Halfback Don (Dopey) Phelps off the eligible list for 30 days. He will be replaced by Carl Tnseff, former John Carroll University back, who was unclaimed a month ago when the Browns asked waivers on him.

Football Forecasters All Up Percentages

Guest football forecaster, Miss Nancy Noon, finished with an 8-5 record last week in her first attempt with the "Star Gazers." Miss Noon went "out on the limb" in several games, but saw favorites come through.

A. L. McClain, sports editor, topped the list when he picked 11 out of 13 correctly. He missed when Richwood nipped St. Mary and Columbus Grove handed Forest its first setback.

Bill Stanbro, Bill Diem and John Short all tied for runnerup spots with a creditable 10-3 record.

Stanbro continues to lead the parade with a lofty .794 percentage.

Boudreau Mum On Pennant

Promises Only To Plug Up Red Sox Gaps

BOSTON, Oct. 23 — (AP)—Realizing just how difficult it is to assemble a championship baseball club, Lou Boudreau did not even mention pennant while making his formal debut as the Boston Red Sox' manager for the next two seasons.

Evidently recalling the seven years he required to make the Cleveland Indians the 1948 world champions, Boudreau's only promise was to plug the Red Sox' obvious gaps.

"We'll trade any one of our players to get the strength we need," Boudreau said.

Lou ignored questions concerning the salary terms on his new two-year contract. They, however, can be assumed to be the $65,000 per annum he signed for last fall when he tied himself to the Red Sox for two years as a utility infielder.

Lou did admit that he turned down managerial offers from the Pittsburgh Pirates and Browns to succeed Steve O'Neill, who will remain in the Red Sox organization, probably as a scout.

Tennessee In No. 1 Spot For First Time

NEW YORK, Oct. 23—(AP)—The University of Tennessee, rated as the nation's No. 1 college football team before the season opened, finally made the grade today in the fourth weekly Associated Press poll. California, last week's top team, dropped to the No. 9 spot.

The Volunteers of Gen. Bob Neyland, who clouted Alabama, 27-13, Saturday, received a whopping total of 70 first-place votes out of 161 cast by the nation's sports writers and sportcasters to take over the No. 1 ranking.

Michigan State, a 32-21 winner over Penn State, had 28 first-place votes, and moved to second from third-place ranking a week ago.

The rough week-end for several top-ranking teams caused some juggling of the standings among the top 10, but only Texas A. & M. dropped out of the select group. The Aggies skidded from No. 6 last week to No. 16, after being upset by Texas Christian, 20-14.

The first ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, based on 10 points for first place, nine for second, eight for third, etc.

Ground Observer Corps To Meet Wednesday

A meeting of the Ground Observer Corps, which is a branch of the Marion County Civil Defense organization, is scheduled Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Harding High School, Dr. A. J. Wagner, supervisor of the Marion Station, announced today.

A moving picture will be shown regarding the activities of the Corps and how the work should be carried on by the members. Anyone interested in the ground observer work of civil defense is invited to attend the meeting. Approximately 150 men are members of the various station staffs throughout the county.

COACH FINED $150

WEST LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23—(AP)—Coach Henry R. (Red) Sanders, whose U.C.L.A. Bruins won their second football game in five starts last Saturday, paid a $150 fine for drunk driving. He pleaded guilty in Municipal Court yesterday after officers testified he was driving on the wrong side of the street. The Bruin head man told police he had had three drinks and felt "reasonably good." U.C.L.A.'s second win was a 41-0 triumph over Oregon.

The proportion of rural population in the United States decreased steadily from 65 percent in 1890 to 44 percent in 1930, but did not change materially in the '30s.

"BEST OF LUCK" LOU! Lou Boudreau (right) hands his signed contract to Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin who wishes him "best of luck" after his appointment as manager of the Bosox, at Boston.Boudreau, 34, ex-Cleveland manager, succeeds Steve O'Neil who continues in the Sox farm organization.

BOWLING RESULTS

Lee Oberlander rolled a 234 to top 10 keglers who rolled 200's Friday night at the Palace Recreation Center in the Commercial League. A 600 by Schultz copped series laurels. Chamberlain with a 270 and Bailey with a 579 took honors in the Independent Loop at the Marion alleys while DeBolt's 578 and Thomas' 232 were high in the Erie League. Gottfried hit a 213-522 to top the Cooler Loop. Individual scores follow:

Coach Shrugs Off Slugging By Player

STILLWATER, Okla., Oct. 23—(UP)—The slugging of Drake football star John Bright appeared to be a closed incident at Oklahoma A.&M. today, but not at Des Moines, Ia., home of Drake University.

A.&M. Coach J. B. Whitworth said yesterday he planned no action against Aggie Tackle Wilbanks Smith, who Saturday hit the Negro halfback twice with his forearm, sidelining Bright with a broken jaw.

Bright, the first and only Negro ever to play on Lewis field in Stillwater, left the game with a broken jaw after four plays, one of them a 61-yard pass for a touchdown. Movies, as well as still pictures taken of the controversial play, showed that Bright had been slugged.

A.&M. went on from there to defeat Drake, 27-14.

Wyandot Co. Has Soil Testing Plan

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY—Wyandot County is one of the eight Ohio counties in which a new soil testing program is being carried out through the county PMA committee. The county office in Upper Sandusky has received almost 1,000 samples from farms near here.

The samples are pulverized, screened and mixed in the local office and forward to the testing laboratories at Ohio State University. Four representatives of the office visit the farms and take samples from the fields to be tested.

Reports from the analysis are returned to the farmers through the local office. They show the type of soil and the requirements for most efficient fertilizing of that field. The comparative need of each field for organic matter, lime, phosophorus and potassium are shown on the report. A permanent record of the reports is kept at the PMA office along with a map showing the location of each field tested.

A majority of the tests taken show little lime deficiency in this area. A result reflecting the results of the lime program here for the past several years. Other requirements of the land vary widely due to the different types of soil in the several townships of Wyandot County.

The effects of climate, soil and other local conditions are so important in tobacco growing that each important tobacco growing district is known for its own type and grade of tobacco.

GIRLS WRESTLING
TAG TEAM MATCH PLUS GRUDGE MATCH THURSDAY

MARS BENNETT

Marion wrestling fans certainly get the top matches. Thursday night at the Armory, they have three girl matches including a girls' tag team match, where all four girls take part and a real grudge match between the men wrestlers.

At 8:30 there will be two one fall matches between the girls, Mars Bennett wrestles Terry Major, a new face for Marion fans. Donna Marie Dieckman meets another new Girl wrestler, Carol Carota.

Then the winners meet the losers in a 60 minute 2 out of 3 fall Girls' Tag Team Match. All four of these girls are nationally known on television.

After LaRance's knock out on the floor last Thursday he wanted a return match with Big Bill Miller, claiming Miller pushed him out of the ring. Miller was already booked, then Jules wanted Joe Wolfe, the Junior Heavyweight Champ, claiming he was robbed in that match. Wolfe was open and willing so it looks like a real grudge match when these two meet in a 60-minute 2 out of 3 fall match. Prices, $1.00 and $1.50, Kids 50c. Call Markert & Lewis early for the best ringside.—Adv.

Newsmen Lose First Round In Court Fight

Judge Denies Motion Of 5 Indicted In Louisiana Case

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 23 — (AP) — Louisiana's supreme court will be asked to pass on the authority of a special jury and prosecutor to try the cases of five newspapermen indicted on charges of defaming 16 public officials and three gamblers

The special Judge, J. Bernard Cocke, of New Orleans, denied motions yesterday challenging his right to hear the cases and the right of assistant attorney general M. E. Culligan to prosecute.

Clement Moss, attorney for the newsmen, told the court he would ask for writs of review from the Supreme Court which if granted would give him the right to appeal Cocke's decision on the motions to the high court.

Cocke set the arraignment of the five for Monday. They were called up for arraignment on Oct. 15, but the motions challenging the appointments of Cocke and Culligan caused a postponement.

The defendants include Thomas Sherman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press, the city's only daily; William Hugh Sherman, his son and co-publisher; Kenneth Dixon, managing editor; James Norton, city editor, and reporter Carter George.

They were indicted Aug. 27 by a grand jury that had been called to investigate the gambling situation the newspaper was campaigning against.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The fellow who got a prize for research in yellow fever still can't quite believe it . . . he never ran 80 yards for a touchdown, negotiated an RFC loan while a federal officer or peddled dope and still he made Page One.

* * *

The award carries a cash prize of $32,000 so the government will help him split the honors but he can keep the medal . . . So far they haven't figured a way to take a 40 percent cut of a medal.

* * *

He was surprised because he didn't think anybody was interested in things like combatting scourge diseases when all the emphasis is on "how many people will this weapon kill?"

* * *

But this Nobel who founded the award system was an odd fellow . . . he invented dynamite with the naive idea that a powerful explosive was a boon to mankind.

* * *

And he had no more than demonstrated how you could blow up a mountain with it than the military boys were planning how to blow up a population.

Some said he later wished he had invented chocolate syrup.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Black Mold on Windows

Q. I moved into my new home just before winter and not being able to obtain storm windows soon enough, I found that condensation running off the glass, has soaked into the wood and left some black mold spots under the varnish. Is there any way to remove this mold

A. The varnish will have to be removed down to the bare wood, and it might be possible to remove the mold with sandpaper. If not, you can bleachout the discoloration by applying a saturated solution of oxalic acid (poison) and denatured alcohol. Leave this on overnight, then rinse well with clear water. When thoroughly dry smooth the surof the wood with "OO" sandpaper, wipe off the dust and refinish as desired.

Nature is thought immersed in matter.—Amos Bronson Alcott
